VOL XVII. NO. 87. TOLEDO, OHIO, TUESDAY, AUGUST 2 1892. LAST EDITION. TWO CENTS.

IN THE BEE TO-DAY

WEATHER REPORT.

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., Aug. 2. 1892.

The storm which was central north of Montana has moved eastward and is central over North Dakota. This storm has caused very light showers over North and South Dakota and northern Minnesota. The area of high pressure has decreased and is central over Iowa and Wisconsin.

Light rains fell during the night at stations around the lakes, being entirely local. The temperature has risen from 5 to 20 degrees over North and South Dakota, and Minnesota. It has fallen slightly or remained stationary in all other sections.

The weather is generally fair in all sections except the northeastern portion of the country where it is cloudy and rainy.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity—On Tuesday, fair stationary temperature; on Wedesday, fair, followed by rain; warmer.

E. A. HANNER, Observer.

Forecast for Ohio—Fair; preceded today by showers; warmer; southerly winds.

For Michigan and Wisconsin—Generally fair; except showers in northern Wisconsin; warmer Wednesday morning; southerly winds.

ARE OUT ON BAIL

Two More Suspected Anarchists Released.

Bauer and Knold at Large Once More.

Report of Smallpox in the Homestead Mills.

Three Men Leave and Circulate the Rumor.

Superintendent Potter, However, Says the Story Is False—General News in Reference to the Strike.

Pittsburg, Aug. 2.—Joseph Driver, of Mitchell street, Manayunk, Pa., with three companions who arrived at Homestead last Saturday, left there last evening.

Driver declares his reason for going was because he knew there were two cases of smallpox among the non-unionists in the mill.

In this statement his companions bore him out.

Superintendent Potter denies the story. He says there is a physician constantly in the mill and there is sickness of no kind among the men. He thinks the smallpox story started with two workmen whom he overheard saying that two men had died of smallpox and that that man Potter had buried them in the mill yard.

Out on Bail.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 2.—The first case to come up in criminal court this morning was that of Anarchists Bauer and Knold. When Attorney Friedman presented his petition asking that they be admitted to bail Judge Ewing said:

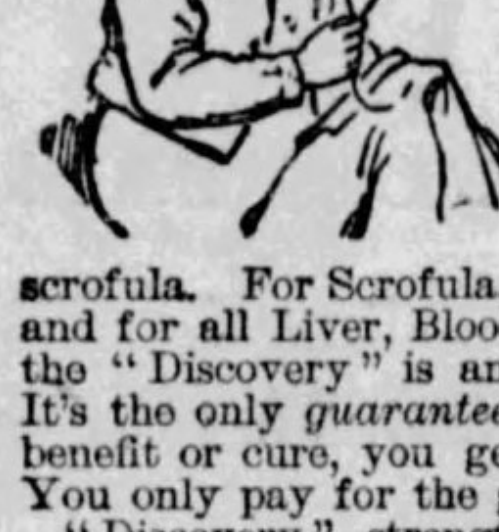
"I take it for granted that the court has grounds on which to hold these men, but as there is no possibility of death resulting I will fix the bail at $5,000 each."

The prisoners remained in the dock while Attorney Friedman and their friends went in search of bail which they secured.

Mr. Frick's Condition.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 2.—Mr. Frick's surgeons are experiencing more difficulty now in restraining the ever increasing desire of their patient to return to his official duties at his office than they encountered in treating his almost fatal injuries.

Mr. Frick slept throughout last night, was up early this morning and after a thoroughly enjoyed breakfast with his family and a romp with his children, he perused the morning papers and dictated and attached his signature to several official papers. Except a slight stiffness in the chords of his neck, Mr. Frick experiences no inconvenience.



On the mend—the consumptive who's not bereft of judgment and good sense. He's taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If taken in time and given a fair trial, it will effect a cure. Consumption is Lung-scrofula. For Scrofula, it its myriad forms, and for all Liver, Blood and Lung diseases, the "Discovery" is an unequaled remedy. It's the only guaranteed one. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you get your money back. You only pay for the good you get.

"Discovery" strengthens Weak Lungs, and cures Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections. Don't be fooled into taking something else, said to be "just as good," that the dealer may make a larger profit. There's nothing at all like the "Discovery." It contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion.

As peculiar in its curative effects as in its composition. Equally good for adults or children.

SIGNED THE SCALE.

The Akron Iron Company Comes to the Terms Dictated by the Amalgamated Association.

Pittsburg, Aug. 2.—The first break among the iron manufacturers of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys came yesterday. The Akron, O., Iron company signed the Amalgamated scale, and 500 men will soon return to work. Other manufacturers will probably sign the scale at an early day. A second conference between wire nail manufacturers and the Amalgamated association was held today and the scale discussed without result. A few minor points were agreed upon. Another meeting will be held later in the week.

EMBEZZLED THE FUNDS.

Milwaukee, Aug. 2.—Charles V. Whaley, formerly business manager of the Chicago Evening Journal, was arrested in this city last night on a charge of embezzling funds belonging to the Journal company. About a month ago Whaley and the former cashier were arrested cojointly, charged with embezzling $35,000 of the company's money. Whaley gave $20,000 bail and disappeared as also did the cashier. Since that time detectives have followed Whaley in the east. When found last night he was registered at a hotel as C. H. Wilson. His present arrest is made upon a capias in a civil suit brought to recover the $35,000, although the sum alleged to have been embezzled is $150,000.

THE WALL PAPER TRUST.

Philadelphia, Aug. 2.—The $20,000,000 wall paper trust which has been shaping for the past few months will either be permanently formed by Wednesday night or dropped altogether. The committee having the organization in charge have decided to bring matters to a focus, and Wednesday has been named as the last day of grace. Counsel for the proposed company issued a circular letter on Saturday calling all the manufacturers to a meeting to be held in New York tomorrow. The letter stated that the appraisers and the committee on organization will be in attendance. It is stated on good authority that the chances are all in favor of the manufacturers signing the final trust agreement.

OFF FOR THF FAR WEST

Knights Templar on the Way to Denver.

Special Palace Trains for the Occasion.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Road Making a Big Pull for Popularity.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—A special, limited, vestibuled train bore the advance guard of the great army of Knights Templar into this city this morning, and from now until the end of the week a steady stream of knights will pass through this city en route to the triennial conclave at Denver.

This morning's arrivals were the members of St. John's commandery of Philadelphia, one of the gilt-edged commanderies of the order. There were about 150 in the party, and most of them are spending the day at the world's fair grounds.

The railroads have arranged to make Chicago the pivotal point of the journey, both going out and returning, and all the bodies from the east will be given an opportunity to visit the world's fair grounds and other places of interest.

The great feature of the undertaking, on the part of the railroads, will lie in the fact that there will be no mixed trains. Each delegation of knights will travel in its own special, and will return by it after the conclave is at an end.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad has just completed schedules for a train service that promises to eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted by a western road. Every detail of the complex system which it has undertaken is completed.

Thirty special trains loaded with knights and their families from Chicago, New York, Brooklyn, Washington, Philadelphia and many other eastern cities will leave the Union depot, in addition to the regular Denver trains, between noon of August 6th and noon of the following day.

The entire traffic of the Omaha and Kansas City divisions will be subordinated to the special flyers, and during August 6th and 7th, when the exodus for Denver is being made, all east-bound fast merchandise, together with grain and live stock traffic, will be side-tracked at division points. The trains will be run in platoons, with sufficient time allowance between each group to provide for any unlooked-for emergencies. Special relay engines will be waiting at division points to lend their assistance if required.

The entire journey of 1,026 miles will be made in from 29 to 34 hours, according to the divisions over which the specials run. The Burlington has every movement of its special trains arranged, even to the most minute details, and the accommodation of the heavy special traffic will be utilized as a feeler for the operations that are to be undertaken during the progress of the world's fair.

Official Program.

Denver, Col., Aug. 2.—The official program for the coming Knights Templars' conclave was made public yesterday. It covers seven days and begins Sunday, August 7, when devotional exercises will be held in all churches, in which all sir knights then in the city are cordially invited to participate. On Monday, August 8, the morning will be spent in receiving the visiting commanderies. From 8 until 12 o'clock of that night the first grand illumination of the city will take place.

On Tuesday, August 9, the grand parade will occupy the greater part of the day.

Wednesday, at 10 o'clock in the morning the boys' brigade will parade, after which carriage drives will be taken to the eastern part of the city, and on returning receptions will be held at various headquarters of the commanderies and clubs.

At 10 o'clock Thursday morning a grand exhibition drill for prizes offered by the Denver Chamber of Commerce, will occur at Overland park. The afternoon and evening will be devoted to inspecting different points of interest. At 8 o'clock p. m., the I. O. O. F. will hold an encampment at Electric hall, where will occur the exemplification of three degrees by the famous Silver State Encampment degree staff.

Friday, August 12, will be devoted to a variety of excursions to neighboring towns, canons, and springs for all desirous of viewing the scenic, mineral, agricultural, and other attractions of the Silver state. At 8:30 p. m. there will be a banquet to the Grand Encampment of the United States at the H. C. Brown Palace Hotel, tendered by the triennial committee.

Saturday, the 13th, will also be spent in excursions to neighboring resorts.

WANTS TO SUCCEED VILAS.

Promise of a Contest Over the Endorsement of a United States Senator.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 2.—There promises to be a contest in the coming democratic state convention over the question of nominating a candidate for United States senator. Senator Vilas went through the campaign two years as the endorsement candidate, and he had no trouble when the legislature got ready to choose a successor to John C. Spooner.

Gen. Edward S. Bragg wants to be the next United States senator from this state, and he would much prefer making a fight before the convention. But there are many democrats who do not favor Bragg's candidacy; but who do not wish to oppose him until after the fall election. For this reason they are opposed to having the state convention nominate or endorse a candidate for senator.

Bragg and his friends know all this, and they have resolved to make a fight in the convention, believing that in case the convention does take action it will nominate Bragg.

CAMP BUCKLAND.

A Trip to the Home of General Hayes.

The Soldier Boys Royally Entertained.

Target Practice and the General Routine of Camp Life—The Regiment Complimented.

Fremont, O., Aug. 2.—(Special)—Camp Buckland was a scene of unusual activity yesterday. After the morning routine regimental target contest was called.

The ranges had been surveyed on the east of the camp and here the various teams assembled to shoot for the regimental badge.

The contest consists of ten rounds, five at a range of 200 yards, and five at 300 yards.

The first half of the contest was completed yesterday, but the prize will not be awarded until the other rounds have been shot.

About noon Adjt.-Gen. Pocock arrived in camp. After dinner the two battalions were formed and marched to the parade ground where they were reviewed and inspected by Gen. Pocock and Captain Heistand of the Eleventh infantry.

The inspection was thorough in the extreme and to-day the boys have something to think about.

The officers inspected each man and over two hours were utilized in the task.

Points were raised and questions put that surprised the officers as well as privates, but cannot help but to result in much good for all concerned.

Gen. Pocock and Captain Heistand are both thorough military men, and while they are exact in the examination they treat the men with the utmost courtesy and respect.

Gen. Pocock expressed himself as being highly pleased with the result of the inspection, and stated that the Sixteenth would rate favorably with any of the regiments of the state.

Speaking of encampment and state militia generally, Capt. Heistand said to a Bee:

"I have visited a number of camps this year, and I find the regiments all pretty well up in guard mount, battalion drill orders, parade, etc., but I find them all terribly deficient in guard regulations.

"The men are perfectly willing to do guard duty if they only knew how, and all they require is instructions."

There was a general hustle among officers to get ready to attend the reception tendered by ex-President Hayes. At 8:30 carriages were announced and the officers and wives were driven to Gen. Hayes' beautiful mansion on Buckland avenue.

While dress parade was in progress Col. Howe, Col. Bonner, Maj. Hopkins and Capt. McMaken arrived in camp and attended the reception in the evening.

A Great Day.

This is a gala day in Fremont and is celebrated with equally as much enthusiasm as the Fourth of July is celebrated the country over. It is known as Croghan's Victory, or the anniversary of the day when Col. George Croghan, with only 169 men and a single cannon, defended Fort Stephenson, located near the present site of Fremont, against the attack of 800 Tories.

A fitting program has been arranged and a big time will be had.

CONGRESS TO-DAY.

Nothing Done in the Lower Branch—Senate Proceedings.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The house at 11 o'clock too several recesses until 1 o'clock. At the last named hour dilatory motions were entered and the house filibustered until 1:40 and then adjourned until tomorrow.

In the Senate.

Washington, Aug. 2.—1:05 p. m.—The Pinkerton investigation resolutions are now being debated in the senate.

THEY STOLE HIM.

A Farmer Alliance County Officer Abducted.

Kansas City, Aug. 2.—A special from Anthony, Kas., to the Journal says: Considerable excitement has been occasioned in this county over the abduction of Aaron Farmer, alliance member of the board of county commissioners, and the attempted abduction of Alexander Terrill, a republican of the board.

Four or five masked men called Mr. Farmer out of bed just before dawn this morning and took him into a carriage, and that was the last seen of him. Commissioner Terrill was out of town when the abductors called for him.

The board of commissioners was to have met to-day to make a levy for the payment of the judgment on the old Harper county bonds, required by the mandamus issued by the supreme court two weeks ago. The better class of Harper county's taxpayers had advised the board to make the levy; but the alliance leaders are in favor of ignoring the mandamus, and demand that the commissioners refuse to make the levy, or resign.

The cause of the abduction was doubtless to prevent the levy of the special tax. Detectives are at work on the matter.

IN AN ASYLUM.

Alice Mitchell, the Murderess, Taken to Bolivar.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 2.—The last scene of the famous Alice Mitchell case was enacted when the murderess was conveyed to the insane asylum at Bolivar. Before leaving the city the carriage containing the prisoner halted at the Mitchell residence, where her father and mother got in. They drove to Freda Ward's grave at Elmwood cemetery. Alice and her father and mother alighted from the carriage. Alice said nothing; but was evidently under strong emotion. Her meditations were not interrupted by other members o fthe party. She moved around the little mound and eyed it with eyes wide open, an occasional tear dropping upon her cheeks. She stooped over and plucked some flowers, which she placed together tastefully and with a thoughtful air. Then she announced she was ready to return. The sojourn at the grave did not last more than ten minutes, after which the party continued on the way to the depot.

ELKS ON AN OUTING.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—The members of the benevolent and protective order of Elks are to-day enjoying an outing at Burlington park, and the program arranged for their entertainment is one of the most unique ever prepared for outdoor presentation. The festivities will be opened with a "Grand Oration by Hon. Bro. Geo. W. Peck, governor of the State of Wisconsin," as the event is announced in the program. The principal feature of the day, however, will be an open air presentation of Colville's operatic version of The Babes in the Wood, and the Good Little Fairy Birds. The libretto is largely original, and compiled especially for the occasion. The cast will be made up of members of the various companies now playing in the city, including the somewhat noted Mrs. Leslie Carter, of the Miss Helyett Company.

WHITEHOUSE.

Whitehouse, Aug. 2.—(Special)—Within a week four persons have been injured by runaway accidents. Mrs. Stump, of Providence township, suffers with broken limbs, while her child died from its injuries. Miss Shearer, of Monclova, is not yet able to be removed.

The high water is going down.

OCTOBER 21 THE DATE.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The house has passed a bill changing the date of the dedication of the buildings of the world's fair from the 12th to the 21st of Oocber.

POLITICAL BATTLES.

The Wisconsin Case is Again in the Courts.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 2.—The initiatory proceedings in the second suit against the state appointment were instituted according to program yesterday, when ex-Attorney General C. E. Estabrook filed with Attorney General O'Connor a request that he commence action before the supreme court, August 9, to test the case. The petitioner is Charles F. Lamb, of this city. The chief allegations of the petition are that the rule of equality of population is disregarded in making up the several legislative districts. Counsel for the petitioners claims that this comes clearly under the rule announced by the supreme court in the first case which has been followed by the supreme court of Michigan.

THE EIGHT HOUR LAW.

Congressman O'Neill's Bill Signed by the President.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The president has signed the act limiting hour of laborers and mechanics employed on public works.

The eight hour law signed by the president was introduced in congress by Representative John O'Neill, of Missouri, former chairman of the labor committee, and was prepared by the labor union.

It prohibits all employes of the government from working over eight hours per day and extends the rule to those working under government contracts.

HONORING COLUMBUS.

Spanish People Commence Their Celebration.

Addresses Issued to the People Who Are Directly Interested in the Affair.

Madrid, Aug. 2.—The celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the departure of Columbus from the port of Palos began to-day and will continue until October 14.

The Spanish government is interested in it and is giving it some aid. But it is chiefly a local affair.

The people of Huelva and Palos want it understood that they are doing it. It is their tribute to the memory of the great discoverer, and to the memory of his crews as well, who were all men of that district and whose lineal descendants are living there to-day.

The present alcalde of the village of Palos bears the name of Prieto, and is indisputably a lineal descendant of that Prieto who was alcalde in 1492 and who saw Columbus weigh anchor and set sail for the unknown rest.

This evening formal announcement of the beginning of the festivities will be given by heralds going about the streets with trumpets and cymbals.

There is a legend that thus, on August 2, 1492, announcement was made that on the next day Columbus would set sail for the Indias.

To-morrow will see Huelva, Palos and Moguer in gala attire. A great excursion will go by water to the neighboring convent of Santa De La Rabida, led by three boats named Santa Maria, the Pinta and the Nina. There will be at La Rabida a festival of banners, salutes by the artillery, brass bands and a grand banquet.

A hymn, written for the occasion and selected in public competition, will also be sung. After these festivities at La Rabida, the excursion will proceed by water to Palos, and services will be held there in the ancient church in which Columbus himself knelt in prayer before setting out on his voyage.

In the evening there will be a grand parade of boats of all kinds, illuminated with colored lanterns, on the water above Huelva.

The municipality of Huelva has decided to address congratulatory dispatches to Pope Leo, to the queen regent of Spain, King Humbert and Queen Victoria, the latter as sovereign of Canada, and the president of the United States, and the heads of other American nations, special recognition being given, so far as Europe is concerned, to those countries which took a contemporaneous interest in the enterprise and discoveries of Columbus.

Delegates left Huelva last night to meet envoys from the United States of Colombia, San Domingo and Venezuela. Twelve delegates from America have so far arrived. M. Riva Palacio, the American minister to Spain, has invited the public officials and American delegates to a banquet on board the Mexican ironclad Zaragoza. The authorities of Huelva issued two hundred invitations to a banquet on Thursday.

PLANS OF FURRIERS' COMBINE.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 2.—Victoria sealers are entering heartily into the plans of the George C. Treadwell company, the furriers' combine recently organized at Albany, N. Y. A representative of the company is here now arranging the preliminaries looking to the securing of control of the sealskin market. The project is to contract for all the raw skins coming in and to cure and dye them in America, thus taking from London dyers and finishers a trade which has been theirs exclusively in the past.

CIVIL SERVICE.

Chicago, August 2.—Over five hundred candidates for positions in the mail service crowded into the Federal building today to take the examination in classified service for the postoffice. The examination is for positions as clerks, carriers, stampers and pilers. The examination is the most important one of the year, as the successful applicants will be assigned to positions at the branch office to be established on the world's fair grounds.

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT CHANGES

St. Petersburg, Aug. 2.—An important change is pending in the method of conducting the central government. The czar, according to the new arrangements, will appoint directly a minister president, who will distribute the ministerial portfolios himself and will be alone responsible to the czar. M. Abazor Abaza will probably be the first president appointed.

DIED AT DANNEMORA.

Joseph Wood Electrocuted for Murder.

Convicted of Killing His Father-in-Law so That He Could Get the Property.

Dannemora, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Joseph, otherwise known as "Cal" Wood, was executed this morning at 11:52 o'clock by electricity. Death was apparently painless and instantaneous.

Joseph Wood, better known as Cal Wood, was convicted on September 17, 1891, of murdering his father-in-law, Leander Pasco, a farmer of Warren county, on May 10th, 1890.

The defendant pleaded not guilty, alleging temporary insanity.

The successive courts adjudged him guilty and Gov. Flower refused to interfere.

On March 2, previous to the crime, Wood secretly married Pasco's daughter. Immediately after the marriage they separated, each returning to their own home.

Pasco, who was very severe with his children, was displeased with the marriage and would not recognize Wood. About a month later Wood told a neighbor that Pasco, who was then living with his housekeeper, "ought to be put out of the way so the children could have the property."

After Wood and his wife went to live together they were subjected to some petty annoyances which they charged to Pasco.

Wood sought to get a warrant out for his arrest, but being denied, uttered more threats. About three weeks later Pasco was murdered by two gunshot wounds. It was satisfactorily proven that Wood had laid in ambush for his father-in-law.

LAKESIDE.

Perfect Weather at the Ohio Camp Grounds.

After the rain of Saturday, Sunday and Monday were perfect days at Lakeside.

The rain of Friday afternoon delayed the exercises of the C. L. S. C. graduates until Saturday morning, when they passed through the arches and "the golden gate" as usual.

The sermon Sunday morning by Dean Wright was an excellent one which should have been enjoyed by everyone.

Rev. S. W. Meeks, of Ravenna, Ohio, delivered an able discourse at 8 p. m.

The regular classes of the day were held at their usual hours.

The lecture by Dean Wright, the last of his series, was on "Picturesque Greek Words."

This afternoon at 1:30 a novel treat for Lakesiders was given on the lawn in front of the hotel in the form of athletic sports. A foot race was won by Mr. Carter, who also won the hurdle race. The contestants in the apple and sack races were boys of about ten years of age.

At 2:30 p. m. the "City of Toledo" landed with an excursion of over five hundred from Toledo and Lima.

The Royal Hand Bell Ringers, of London, who were expected on the train, did not come. They had missed connections but came on the "City of Toledo." The orchestra entertained the audience until their arrival.

The auditorium was crowded but every one felt more than paid for the delay.

This same company will give entertainments on Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon. Every one should hear them. They give the best entertainments of this season.

At 4:30 the people were delighted by marine sports, consisting of swimming, tub and rowing races.

People at the hotel who came very recently are: Albert Murry and wife, Charlott, Mich.: Fred Cankim, Cleveland, O.: Miss Laura Green, Fostoria, O.: Mrs. J. E. LaBarre and Miss Jennie R. Griffin, of Toledo, O.: L. I. Hissing and wife, Fostoria, O.: B. R. Davis and Miss E. Stone, of Sandusky, O.

MISTAKEN FOR A BURGLAR

And Shot Dead by a Buffalo Citizen.

The Man Had Been Drinking and Forgot Where His Home Was.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 2.—William Sweeney, 20 years of age, was shot and killed by Ralph Allen, of 725 Jefferson street, shortly before daylight this morning, while trying to force an entrance into the latter's house. Allen is under arrest.

He says that at 4 o'clock this morning he was aroused by some one trying to force a window. He secured a revolver and went down stairs. The noise came from the kitchen window and Allen went to the rear door. The supposed burglar had just succeeded in forcing off the window screen when Allen demanded to know what was wanted. There was no answer though the question was repeated and Allen opened the door and found the man in the yard.

Allen was greatly excited, and taking aim he fired, the ball taking effect in the man's breast.

A policeman was summoned and the wounded man was taken to the hospital where he died at 5 o'clock without making any statement or explaining what he was doing in Allen's yard.

It appears that Sweeney and some companions were at a picnic last night and drank considerable.

About 3 o'clock Sweeney parted from his friends and said he was going home. How he came to go into Allen's yard will probably never be explained. He bore a good reputation, was employed in a grocery store and was his mother's only support.

RECOGNIZED VAN LOON

As the Man Who Did the Columbus Grove Job.

A Woman Who Has Not Figured in the Case Talks to the Officials.

Columbus, O., Aug. 2.—"That's the man who committed the Columbus Grove murder and bank robbery! I saw him do the shooting!" excitedly exclaimed a lady visitor at the penitentiary, as she gazed at the picture Frank Van Loon.

There would be nothing strange about the lady's remarks were it not for the fact that, while she was an eyewitness of the tragedy, she did not testify in the trial of Van Loon and never saw him before to know him. She left Columbus soon after the tragedy and remained away on a long visit until subsequent to Van Loon's conviction.

Ben anxious to avoid notoriety in the celebrated case, she told no one outside of her immediate family that she saw the murder. And thus was never called as a witness. Her startled exclamation at the penitentiary to-day was made while Deputy Warden Playford was showing herself and several friends photographs of the condemned men in the annex. Deputy Warden Playford questioned the lady in regard to her knowledge of the case, but was able to learn very little from her, as she is still desirous of remaining in the background.

The deputy learned, however, that her name was Mrs. Ida Billheimer, and her home is at Columbus Grove. One of the ladies accompanying her subsequently stated to the deputy that Mrs. Billheimer's first name is not Ida. She had given that name in her attempt to aviod notoriety. It is understood that Mrs. Billheimer was passing the door of the Columbus Grove bank when the tragedy was enacted. Her positive identification of Van Loon as the murderer under the circumstances will be a strong point against his present effort to secure a commutation of sentence from death to life imprisonment.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Upper Sandusky, O., August 2.—The capitalists who arranged Saturday for the organization of a company to manufacture coffins in this city, mean business, and today elected the following officers: President, E. A. Gordon; vice president, David Moody; secretary, Harry Henderson; manager, W. S. Bush; directors, E. A. Gordon, David Moody, Harry Henderson, W. S. Bush and George Beery, jr.

STABBED IN THE BACK.

Scranon, Pa., Aug. 2.—Anthony Kelly and Thomas Welsh attacked Arthur Long, a teamster, while he was returning to his home in Pinebrook during last night and stabbed him in the back, killing him almost instantly.

The attack was brought about by a fight Long recently had with Kelly's brother, in which the latter was badly used. The assailants have been imprisoned.

TO REDISTRICT MICHIGAN.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 2.—Gov. Winans has issued a proclamation calling a special session of the legislature, to meet Friday, Aug. 5, at noon, for the purpose of rearranging the senate districts and apportioning anew the representatives among the counties and districts, and for the transaction of such business as may be laid before it.

SUITS COMMENCED.

Pittsburg, Aug. 2.—Suit has been entered by attorneys representing ex-Private Iams, against Gen. Hawkins, Col. Streator and Sergeant Mins, who executed the sentence in the punishment of the soldier. The suits were entered before Judg Reilly.

DIED AT 70.

Upper Sandusky, O., Aug. 2.—(Special.)—Simeon Sullivan, of Kirby, died to-day, aged about 70 years. He was a pioneer resident and was well-known throughout the county.

THE PLANET MARS

Will be in Apposition To-morrow Night.

A Description Everybody Can Understand.

Is Mars Inhabited?—The Condition of Its Surface—How the Planets Were Born—What Dean Swift Wrote Long Ago Comes to Pass.

In their travels round the sun the Earth and Mars come near together once in fifteen years. To illustrate their movements imagine a race track with the sun in the center. Two planets are on the track traveling at different speeds. At times they are together. Then one pushes ahead and finally reaches a point in the track directly opposite the other. They are both on the same track, but widely apart. Then they come together again and for a short period are on the same side of the track. Just now the Earth and Mars are coming together on their great track or orbits in space. To-morrow evening they will be nearer each other than they have been for fifteen years. Mars is said to be in opposition. At the last opposition the two moons of Mars were discovered, and during the present one it is highly probable that other very important discoveries will be made.

If we were transported to the center of the solar system, the sun, we would find that great luminary to be a mass of burning matter enveloped in a restless atmosphere of elements in a gaseous state, a huge, molten, storm-swept ball, that some day in ages to come will cool to a liquid and then to a solid state.

According to the nebular hypothesis, the sun while revolving swiftly on its axis threw off masses of matter which took a spherical form in obedience to the same law of gravitation that shapes the dew drop.

These new bodies formed the planets of the solar system, eight in number. These bodies in turn threw off matter which formed the satellites or moons. These moons being small cooled rapidly and became, as we might say, dead worlds. Our own moon is an illustration.

The planets being larger, cooled slower. At present some are sufficiently cooled to support life, while others are still in a burning state. Of those besides our own earth that are fitted for the habitation of human beings, Mars is the only one of which the astronomers can speak knowingly.

The surface of Mars seen through a large telescope is found to be composed of land and water. The snow caps at either pole are easily distinguishable and can be seen to extend towards the planet's equator as the martial winter sets in and melt away again in summer.

Mars can easily be picked out in the sky by its reddish hue. Some astronomers have advanced a theory that the color is due to the vegetable kingdom which they assume is red. Others claim it is due to the absorption of the atmosphere.

Excellent photographs have been taken, and very accurate maps have been made of its surface. The principal bodies of land and water have been named. The planet is crossed by numerous waterways, regular in width and undeviating in their respective courses. They resemble mighty canals. Some hold that they must have been constructed by the inhabitants of Mars. If such is the case the martial engineers are more advanced in the use of the natural forces than we earthites.

The credulous will say how do you know there is water on Mars? The question is easily answered. When looking through a large telescope clouds can be seen in the atmosphere of the planet, and it is well known that clouds are nothing more than water vapors. It is also known that where there is water there is generally life. Every drop of water on this globe or ours teems with animal and vegetable life, as the microscope plainly shows. Yes, there must be life of some kind on Mars, but whether or not it has reached that stage of its existence where beings like ourselves are the highest form of animal life, or whether the inhabitants are of a higher order, finer intellect, more perfect in body and more advanced in the arts and sciences than the inhabitants of the earth, is only a matter of conjecture

It will be remembered that a few months ago a wealthy French woman bequeathed a large sum of money to be awarded to the first man who succeeded in establishing communication with the planet Mars. The present position of that planet has awakened some interest in the subject, but as even the Lick telescope only reduces the distance to something over 17,500 miles, the idea, for the present, at least, is purely speculative. Mars is an older planet than ours. There are those who claim that we will find during these observations absolute evidence of its decadence. Prof. A. Winchell affirms that Mars was habitable nine and a half million years ago, and that our observations now will be convincing of its refrigeration. But Prof. Holden, Prof. Hall, Prof. Pichering and Camille Flammarion oppose this theory, and adduce most interesting observations not only to prove that Mars has an atmosphere, but that its climate is very much like that of our own planet. From now until September or October thousands of telescopes will be levelled at the ruddy planet in order to obtain data that will lead to a definite conclusion regarding the habitability of Mars. In the past fifteen years vast improvements have been made in astronomical instruments, and in photographic appliances, and it is probable that discoveries will be made during the coming month even more important than than those of Prof. Hall, in 1877.

Storms are sometimes seen to sweep over the planet or the land is white in patches where a recent snowfall has occurred. Stories have been circulated that the inhabitants of Mars are trying to signal the earth, but even if such were the case their efforts would be invisible to us with our present instruments of observation.

The inclination of Mars' axis differs but little from that of the earth, and consequently the seasons are much the same as ours, as is the length of the planet's day.

Until the year 1877 Mars was supposed to have no satellite, and many are the poets who have written of "moonless Mars." In the above year, at the last opposition, Asap Hall, of the National observatory at Washington, discovered not only one moon, but two, very small bodies indeed, but still moons, and the fact that they are nearer to Mars than our moon is to us, makes them look quite as large to Martial observers as ours does. These small bodies are but 15 and 30 miles in diameter, and are the smallest celestial bodies known. There is an interesting and mystifying coincidence in connection with the discovery of these moons.

About the year 1726 Dean Swift wrote a book, popular to this day—Gulliver's Travels. In it the author describes a trip on the flying island of Laputa. He speaks of the intelligence of the Laputian astronomers and of the advances made by them as follows, quoting the book:

"They have likewise discovered two lesser stars, or satellites, which revolve about Mars, whereof the innermost is distant from the planet exactly three of its diameters and the outermost five; the foremost revolves in a space of 10 hours and the latter in 21 1-2."

The author not only made a correct guess at the number of moons, but gave a fair description of their size, distance from their primary and time of revolution. This is wonderful consideringthat in no possible way could Swift have discovered the fact, as in those days there were no telescopes powerful enough to show the moons. It is only under most favorable conditions like the present that they are visible to astronomers of to-day, with the powerful telescopes they have at their command. This coincidence proves again the adage "truth is stronger than fiction."

GIGANTIC EXPRESS DEAL

Wells-Fargo Company Acquiring Lines.

Adams Express Company Shut Out from the West.

Two Thousand Miles of Railroad Added to the Former Company's Routes.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Dudley Evans, general superintendent of the Wells-Fargo Express company, was in the city yesterday to conclude negotiations with the officials of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company, by which the entire system of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway surrenders its express line privileges to the Wells-Fargo company.

These lines have been under the control of the Adams Express company, and the contract expired yesterday.

Officials of the road said that the aggressive methods of the Wells-Fargo company were preferable to the conservative management of the Adams company, and that the change had been made for that reason.

The change is of great importance because at present it shuts out the Adams express from the southwestern part of the United States and puts the Wells-Fargo company in control.

The latter company has made the final move by which it has gathered in competing lines and opened connections with Mexico, where the company is monarch of all it surveys, having the express rights over the Mexican Central.

The Adams Express company is left with only two lines west of the Mississippi—a portion of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and Kansas City, Ft. Scott & Memphis. The new lines acquired by the Wells-Fargo company comprise nearly 2,000 miles of railway.

NEWS FROM COLUMBUS.

Man Instantly Killed by Lightning—Condition of the State Treasury.

Columbus, Aug. 2.—Dilly Mulby, son of Charles Mulby, a wealthy brickmaker, was instantly killed at the brickyards during the heavy storm yesterday. The fluid struck him in the side of the face and ran down the left side of his body, tearing off the shoe and mangling the limb. The young man was aged 28 years. Death was instantaneous.

G. W. Caldwell, chief detective of the Erie Railway company, is here awaiting the release of one of the most noted and desperate prisoners in the penitentiary, which occurs next Wednesday. The man wanted is Max Geler, and he is wanted in Pennsylvania for burglary and also for jail breaking. Detective Caldwell was among the applicants last spring for the wardenship of the penitentiary. A requisition from Gov. Pattison has been honored by Gov. McKinley.

Auditor of State Poe and Treasurer W. T. Cope yesterday counted the money in the state treasury. Their report showed the following condition of funds:

General revenue fund.......	$56,585 32
Sinking fund...............	475,229 96
School fund................	86,522 45
University fund............	615 87
Total......................	$618,953 60

The securities of the insurance commissioner, Kinder, and the trust companies, were verified.

FIFTY THOUSAND

Was Gov. Jones' Majority in Alabama.

Colored Voters Turn Out and Work Like Beavers for the Democratic Ticket.

Mobile, Ala., Aug 2.—So far as known the election throughout the state has been a very quiet one, though great interest was manifested. A novel feature was that in most of the places the colored voters turned out and not only voted but worked like beavers for Jones and the straight democratic ticket and aided materially in piling up large majorities for the democratic party. The register has received bulletins form 28 of the 66 counties in the state which show handsome majorities for Jones, except in Hale county. The indications are that Jones has carried Montgomery (his home) county by 6,000, Bullock by 2,000 and Talladega by 560. In Barbour county Jones received four out of every five votes polled. The evidences thus far are that the straight-out democratic ticket has carried, though they doubt not that Kolb has carried a few of the remote counties.

Later returns carry out the first indications. This city gives Governor Jones 2,843 majority and the county will give at least 6,000. The counties of Mobile, Calhoun, Jefferson, Montgomery, Dale, Dallas, Russell, Barbour, Sumter, Bullock, Talladega, Walker, Lauderdale,, Perry, Lowndes, Wilcox and Marengo show nearly 35,000 majority for the democratic ticket. The indications are that not over 15 out of 65 counties in the state will give Kolb a majority, and not one of them will exceed 1,000.

The legislature will be overwhelmingly straight democratic.

The negroes everywhere refused to follow the Kolb banner and voted in large numbers open democratic tickets; in many cases they were actual workers at the polls. This was especially the case in this city.

The expectation was that the opposition vote would be the largest in years, but the results do not show that this expectation was realized. A conservative estimate places Govenor Jones' majority at not less than 50,000.

THE FRENCH EXCITED.

They Want Quebec Annexed to the United States.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 2.—La Canada, the organ that has for some time been championing the cause of Minister Chapleau, came out last night with a leader strongly supporting political union with the United States.

Dealing with the judgment of the privy council in the Manitoba school cases, it says that the English speaking people are driving the French Canucks into political union with the states, and that the only resource left to the French element is to present a memorial to the queen asking that Quebec may be permitted to become annexed to the United States.

IRON MOUNTAIN TROUBLES.

Mechanics to Go Out on Account of a Non-union Boss.

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 2.—Owing to the discharge of C. Braun, foreman of the Iron Mountain railroad shops at this place, the road is threatened with a serious strike. Master Mechanic Roberts appointed S. J. Elkins as successor to Braun and yesterday the mechanics refused to work under Elkins, claiming he was a non-union man, and left the shops.

The machinists say that unless Elkins is removed every man employed in the shops will quit work. The railroad authorities are determined to support the master mechanic in his action, and it is expected the men will go on strike to-day.

RIVER CARNIVAL.

Davenport, Ia., August 2.—The Upper Mississippi Carnival is being held here today, and will be continued to-morrow. This is the fourth event of the kind, but the first to be extended over two days.

TO MAKE US A VISIT.

New York, Aug. 2.—Baron Hirsch, the famous philanthropist, will probably visit the United States within a month or six weeks. He is now completely restored to health. He will receive an ovation from his brethren in this city.

Coughs and colds kept off by taking Simmons Liver Regulator for the system.

NUMBERLESS FRAUDS.

They Imitate the Remedies of a Great Discoverer.

One of the strongest proofs of the successes achieved by the world-famous remedies of Dr. Leslie E. Keeley for the cure of the liquor, opium and morphine diseases is seen in the large number of imitators and specious adapters that are springing up on either hand. One year ago they were, almost to a man, denouncing the theories and practices of Dr. Keeley and, now that the whole world has accepted them, these same fellows claim to understand all about them and to be themselves discoverers of remedies of greater merit than even Dr. Keeley's.

They guarantee a cure before having a single patient; have guaranteed a cure before they knew whether or not their mixtures would kill or cure, before even a few months had elapsed to test a partial efficacy of their nostrums. They have adapted all of Dr. Keeley's printed rules to their treatment, and have imitated, as far as possible, his methods.

The gold treatment question is a serious one. Dr. Keeley has given the world one of its greatest blessings, a real boon, and proof is found in the thousands of cured men; his remedy has stood every test, even of time. Why should anyone risk failure, and perhaps life, by allowing some ignorant adventurer to experiment with him? Don't do it.

The Keeley Institute of Ypsilanti, Mich., is operating under a special contract with Dr. Keeley, which requires the methods of treatment and remedies used to be identical with those used at Dwight. All remedies are manufactured by Dr. Keeley; he instructs its physicians, approves of their appointment, and the institute is under his supervision. An agent of this institute, which is noted as the finest institution of the kind in America, is located in Toledo. For personal information or literature giving general information call on or address: Agent Keeley Institute, Hotel Hamilton, or 706 Madison street, Toledo, O.

Endorsation.

I fully endorse the above. These gentlemen are the only persons representing or using the remedies of the parent institution at Dwight, Ill., who have had a representative in Toledo. After having talked with and seen thousands of men and women who have been cured by these remedies, anywhere from three months to twelve years, and having a personal knowledge and appreciation of what they have done for me, I am only too glad to recommend them to others, and as to "frauds," they should be known and fully advertised as such, that they may do no harm to those who are already unfortunate.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Spent Another Evening in Warm Discussion.

Messrs. Kohn and Trost Declined to Vote, But the Rest of the Members Selected Additional Teachers—How It Came About.

The regular meeting of the board of education was held last evening, there being a full attendance beside a number of visitors.

The various committees presented their reports, including the janitors' pay amounting to $323.25, which were adopted. The board now has at its disposal $45,506.96.

Mr. Conrad, superintendent of buildings, stated that it was time to advertise for fuel for the coming year and the board authorized him to do so. He also suggested that a committee be appointed to note the condition of sidewalks in the yard at the Sherman street school. On motion of Mr. Broer, the matter was referred to the building committee.

Mr. Gillette, from the Ninth ward, was present and made a complaint against Superintendent Compton for unjust and serious punishment inflicted upon his son. The small boy had, the Friday before Decoration day, become mixed up in some trouble for which he was sent home from school by the teacher. Mr. Gillette wrote a note to the teacher in regard to the matter and was ignored. Upon investigation he found that the boy was not to blame, and that he had been unduly punished. He also possesses a letter from a physician stating that on account of the injuries received the boy will not be able to attend school this coming year. Mr. Gillette thought that something ought to be done about the case. It was finally decided to refer the matter to the teachers' committee to report at the next meeting.

The following appointment of teachers for vacancies in the teachers' list was read by Mr. Schlingman in behalf of the teachers' committee, to be voted upon: German primary, Hoag school, Ida Reible; junior primary, East Toledo, Emily Baggis; junior primary, Raynor school, Addie Douglas; junior primary, East Toledo, Hattie Cochran; senior primary, East Toledo, Mamie Nitzler; German junior primary, alternate, South school, Henry Gerber; senior intermediate, principalship, Raymer school, Mamie Richardson; junior secondary, Ontario school, Myrtle Hall; English primary, alternate, Nebraska school, Ella Love; senior intermediate, Sherman school, Olive Donaldson; senior intermediate, Stickney school, Mattie Telford; junior intermediate, Sherman school, Grace Datesman; W. A. Ogden, music.

The report was signed by the committee, Messrs. Schlingman, Eversman and Hubbard.

It was moved by Mr. Schlingman that the report be adopted as read.

Mr. Trost objected on the grounds that it was unusual for the chairman of the teachers' committee to move the adoption of his own report.

Mr. Scott then moved that the report be adopted, at which point Mr. Kohn arose and moved an amendment that each name in the report be considered and voted upon separately. He stated that he had no means of knowing whether the teachers named were qualified to hold the positions, and he was inclined to believe that some of the older teachers were being dropped for no special reason, the vacancies to be filled by the less competent. Mr. Kohn said that these names were selected at a session held last Friday night, whether secret or not he could not say; at any rate he was not invited to be present. He thought that the board was anxious to act on the matter with undue and unnecessary haste. Mr. Kohn made a plea in behalf of Mrs. Foley for her reappointment as a teacher, she having taught successfully for 15 years in the public schools of Toledo and finally thrown out of a position because the walls of the Lagrange street school were torn down. He challenged Mr. Compton to state one fair reason for her removal. He stated that some of the members of the board were under the false impression that Mrs. Foley had favored Dr. Quigley's sentiment in regard to the public school. This was denied in her behalf and her reinstatement was recommended.

The amendment received a second.

In answer to a question asked by Mr. Trost, Mr. Compton stated that the two highest grades of Sherman street school were transferred for a time to the Erie school, but there now remained two vacant rooms in the latter school.

After some discussion Mr. Kohn made his amendment to read that Mrs. Foley's name be included in the list of teachers, her assignment to be disposed of later.

Mr. Scott thought there were other reasons for Mrs. Foley's removal than those which had been given, stating that he had fully investigated, to which Mr. Kohn responded that he had done the same, and referred to Superintendent Compton for the lady's record.

Dr. Squires, of East Toledo, then joined in the discussion and urged the reinstatement of three teachers at their school, who had been considered excellent teachers, two of whom were graduates of the Toledo High school.

Mr. Trost, as representative of the First ward, objected to the appointment of Mattie Telford. He demanded the right to nominate a teacher for the First ward. Mr. Trost offered another amendment to defer the filling of vacancies for two weeks, but President Hubbard directed the secretary to call the roll according to the previous motion on the adoption of the report.

Each member voted in the affirmative until Mr. Kohn's name was called. He stated that he wished to be excused from voting on account of the tendency to ignore the right of Mr. Trost to recommend a teacher for the vacancy in the First ward.

Mr. Trost also refused to vote.

The report was therefore adopted.

Mr. Scott moved that Miss Winnie Schlingman be appointed to fill the vacancy in East Toledo, which was approved.

Mr. Eversman moved the appointment of Mrs. Foley, but it was decided that all other appointments be referred to the teachers' committee.

Mr. Kohn, who had resigned the position as chairman of the fuel committee, moved that President Hubbard fill the vacancy.

Mr. Hubbard persistently objected, as did also Mr. Scott, whose name was proposed. The matter was laid over for two weeks.

One bid was received for the placing of lightning rods and was awarded to Mr. M. J. McCreary at 26 cents per foot.

Superintendent Compton asked for improvements in the interior of the High school. The building committee and superintendent of buildings were authorized to look after the repairs.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Columbus, O., Aug. 2.—The following articles of incorporation were filed in the office of the secretary of state to-day: The J. B. Neil Manufacturing company, Columbus, capital stock $25,000; the Mosler Mutual Aid society of Hamilton, O., Hamilton; the United States Express Company's Employes' Mutual Benefit association, Cincinnati; the German Benevolent society, Sippo, Stark county; the Williams & Rogers company, Cleveland, capital stock, $100,000; the Linwood Piano Fund society, Linwood; the Diebold Fire Brick company, Canton capital stock $25,000; the First Building and Loan Association company, Upper Sandusky, capital stock, $10,000.

M'KINLEY IN NEBRASKA.

Ten Thousand People at Beatrice to Hear Him Speak.

Beatrice, Neb., Aug. 2.—Governor McKinley arrived here yesterday afternoon and was met at the train by two thousand republicans who escorted him to the Paddock hotel. The republican county convention took a recess and marched to the hotel, where Governor McKinley made a brief speech eulogizing the present administration and predicting republican success at the polls.

He held a "soldiers' reception" last night and made an address to the veterans, eschewing politics. To-day he speaks at the Chautauqua grounds. Ten thousand strangers are in the city to hear him.

IN COLLISION.

A Freight and Passenger Come Together on the Big Four.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 2.—The limited eastbound passenger train on the Big Four, which left here at 9 p. m., collided with a freight at Edwardsville, Ill. Dispatches were sent to both this city and Alton for a number of physicians.

The accident was caused by the passenger train running into an open switch on which a freight train was standing with which it collided.

Killed—Engineer Edward Hoffman, of Mattoon: leaves wife and four children.

Fireman Wm. Barrett, single, Mattoon.

The only serious injury was that of Samuel Coswell, a tramp, who was injured internally and will die.

The wrecked engine was thrown across the Chicago & Alton tracks, blockading traffic on that line for about six hours.

FLAMES AT PORTLAND, ORE.

They Rage Furiously for Several Hours and do Much Damage.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 2.—At 8:30 o'clock last night fire broke out on the third floor of the Whittier, Fuller & Co.'s paint and oil store, on Front street, and an hour later threatened to destroy the entire block, a four story brick, 200 by 100 feet, occupied by Wadhams & Co., wholesale grocers, Frank Bros., implement dealers and Lang & Co., grocers. The building is owned by United States Senator Dolph and D. B. Thompson.

At 10 o'clock the fire was gotten under control. It was confined to the stores of Whittier, Fuller & Co. and Wadhams & Co., both of which firms occupied four stores. The two upper floors were entirely gutted. The total loss will reach $250,000: insurance about two-thirds.

A SANDUSKY RECTOR RESIGNS.

Sandusky, Aug. 2.—A sensation in church circles has been created by the resignation of Rev. Frederick W. Clampett, rector of Grace Episcopal church, of this city. Mr. Clampett has only been here a short time, having come to this city from Columbus. He assigns as a reason for his resignation that his surroundings here are uncongenial, being rendered so by the unfriendliness of some of his parishoners. It is understood that Mr. Clampett has accepted a call to a church in Baltimore. The vestry of Grace church held a meeting and accepted the rector's resignation.

SAW MILL MEN GO OUT.

Stevens Point, Wis., Aug. 2.—The men employed in the saw mills of this city are on a strike. When Bosworth & Reilly's mill started this morning the men refused to go to work and formed in line and marched to the other mills, calling out every employe. Just what is wanted is not definitely known. Some claiming they want an advance in wages while others say they will be willing to work at the former wages, provided the time is changed from eleven to ten hours for a day's work.

UNABLE TO MARKET THEIR ORE.

Marquette, Mich., Aug. 2.—Operations at the Champion iron mine were this morning suspended for an indefinite period and the entire force of 600 employes discharged. The suspension is due, it is said, to the fact that the company is unable to market its ore, which is of a variety that is crowded out of the market by cheaper ores. The Champion mine is the third largest of the mines in the Marquette iron range.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

St. Louis, Aug. 2.—The third biennial national convention of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators of America was called to order at 1 p. m. yesterday by General President George A. Thompson. At to-day's session nothing but the routine organization will be attended to.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

Merrill, Wis., Aug. 2.—The 900 saw mill men who struck last Friday returned to work to-day and will settle the troubles by arbitration.

AT MUSKEGON.

Opening of the Camp Meeting—Star Attraction.

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 2.—The first large camp-meeting to be held in the Hackley Park Assembly grounds, near this city, opened to-day and will continue until the 12th.

To-day and to-morrow will be occupied with the dedication ceremonies, Bishop Newman officiating to-day and Chaplain McCabe to-morrow.

Among the other speakers who will address the meetings during the remainder of this and next week are Rev. R. M. Belton, of Chicago, Rev. E. W. S. Hammond, the colored orator, Rev. J. H. Potts, D. D., of Detroit, Bishop Hunt, Rev. R. T. Savin, D. D., J. C. Hartzell, D. D., of New Orleans, Rev. L. R. Fisk, president of Albion college, Rev. Washington Gardier, and Bishop William Taylor, of Africa.

The meeting will wind up with a big Sunday school convention on the 12th. It is announced that the teachers of the entire northwest will assemble here next year.

Ministers, lawyers, teachers, and others whose occupation gives but little exercise, should use Carter's Little Liver Pills for torpid liver and biliousness. One is a dose. Try them.

TRADE ASSEMBLY.

No. 252 Holding a Session in Meriden.

Meriden, Conn., August 2.—A convention composed of delegates from all the local assemblies attached to National Trade Assembly, 252, is being held in this city to-day. Elaborate preparations have been made by members of the local assemblies for the entertainment of the visitors. A large amount of business of importance to the order will be disposed of to-day and to-morrow, and it is thought that before the gathering disperses the delegates will take advantage of the opportunity to record their disapproval and condemnation of Col. Streator's inquisitorial methods at Homestead.

SILVER PURCHASE.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The treasury department to-day purchased 450,000 ounces of silver as follows: 100,000 at .8573 and 350,000 at .8574 cents per ounce. The offers were 831,000 ounces.

WHAT CURES PIMPLES

The only really successful preventive and cure is CUTICURA SOAP. A marvellous beautifier of world-wide celebrity, it is simply incomparable as a skin-purifying soap, unequalled for the toilet, and without a rival for the nursery. Absolutely pure, delicately medicated, exquisitely perfumed, it produces the whitest, clearest skin, and softest hands, and prevents inflammation and clogging of the pores, the cause of pimples, blackheads, red and oily skin, dry, thin, and falling hair.

CUTICURA SOAP

Derives its remarkable medicinal properties from CUTICURA, the great skin cure, but so delicately are they blended with the purest of toilet and nursery soap stocks that the result is a medicated toilet soap incomparably superior to all other skin and complexion soaps, while rivalling in delicacy and surpassing in purity the most expensive of toilet soaps.

Skins on Fire with itching, scaly, and blotchy skin and scalp diseases, are speedily, permanently, and economically cured by CUTICURA REMEDIES. Price: CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, 50c.; CUTICURA SOAP, 25c.; CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new Blood Purifier, $1.00. POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, Boston. UPDYKE MEETINGS

Are Losing None of Their Interest—Ladies' Meeting.

There was the usual large attendance at the Updyke meeting last night, held at the corner of Bancroft street and Vermont avenue. Next Sunday afternoon, at 3:30, Rev. Updyke will deliver a lecture to women only, subject: "Woman's Place and Power." Prof. Hawes will sing "My Wandering Child" and "My Mother's Prayer."

ARRESTED IN CHICAGO.

Chas. D. Liter is Behind the Bars Here.

Last night United States Deputy F. B. Hitchcock, of Chicago, arrived here from that city having in charge Chas. D. Liter, who was arrested on the charge of robbing the postoffice at Hector, Putnam county, of $15 worth of postage stamps some months ago. He was working in Chicago when arrested. He was given a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Beckham this morning and bound over in the sum of $500 to the U. S. court at the December term.

DENIES THE ALLEGATION.

Answer Filed in the Bensinger Cash Register Case.

In the U. S. circuit court to-day Leon Levy, the defendant in the Bensinger self-adding cash register case, filed an answer to plaintiff's complaint in which he denies almost in toto the allegations advanced. He admits having purchased and resold the machines, but he believed and still believes that Waddell & Co., the parties from whom he purchased them, were the rightful owners of the patent.

TWO HUNDRED KNIGHTS

Will Arrive in Toledo This Afternoon And Stay for Supper.

Some two hundred Knights Templar will arrive in Toledo at 4:20 o'clock this afternoon on the Michigan Central railroad. They are enroute for Denver to attend the triennial conclave of the Grand Encampment Knights Templars.

They will take supper at the Boody house, and will continue their travels at 7 p. m., taking the Wabash.

The Toledo contingent will leave on the Clover Leaf. The railroads have made exceedingly low rates and a large number are going from this city.

LECTURE COURSE.

To Be Given by the Political Equality Club—The Speakers.

The Political Equality club propose giving a course of six lectures this winter, for the purpose of educating, entertaining and interesting the people in equal suffrage work. The following lecturers of national reputation will probably be secured: Mary Livermore, Boston; Lide Meriwether, Tennessee; Clara Colby, Washington, D. C.; Carrie Lane Chapman, Washington; Susan B. Anthony, Rochester, N. Y.; Rev. Anna Shaw, Everywhere. The first lecture will probably be given about November 15. The tickets for the course will be sold for $1. The club will meet August 20, with Mrs. S. I. Moore, 2233 Maplewood avenue.

JULY WEATHER.

As Shown by Observer Hanner—The Heat and Rain.

The meteorological summary for Toledo during the month of July as made by Observer Hanner shows that the mean barometer for the month was 30.094; mean temperature, 72,8; highest temperature, 96 on the 24th, and the lowest temperature 49 on the 1st. The prevailing direction of the wind was west with a total movement of 5,617 miles; the highest velocity of wind reached was 49 miles per hour from the northwest on the 24th. Total precipitation 3.78 inches, the greatest since 1881. There were 15 cloudless days, 12 partly cloudy days, and 4 cloudy days. An Aurora was visible on the 16th.

LET'S TALK OIL.

Two Answers Filed in the United States Court.

Yesterday in the United States circuit court there was filed an answer in the case of Ritter & Conley v. The Crystal Refining Co., wherein the plaintiff claims that all the material contracted for was not delivered; that the material was delivered not in Ohio but in Pennsylvania, and last, that the delay caused by plaintiff entailed a loss of $3,000 to defendant.

In the case of the Lima Oil Co., wherein Geo. Dudley Farlin and Geo. W. Barnes interests are involved, an answer was also filed. Defendant denies that he ever entered into partnership with Farlin in the Lima Oil Co. on the basis stated. Barnes further denies that he made any fraudulent statements relative to the finances of the Lima Oil Co.

MIDDLE BASS NOTES.

The Cottages Full—Divine Services—Well Patronized Boats.

There are 160 guests at the Club house, among whom are: Senator Massie and family, of Chilicothe, O.; Hamilton Daugherty and family, of St. Louis; Jas. Clark and family, of Louisville, Ky.; C. H. Bulkly, W. S. Dodge and H. B. Hale and their families, of Cleveland.

All the cottages are occupied.

Divine services are held every Sunday in the chapel. On last Sunday Rev. Edward Collins, of Detroit, officiated.

The steam yacht LeRoy Brooks serves the members and guests by making trips to the Bay hourly and excursions in the evening. She is an elegant steam yacht, carrying about one hundred passengers.

The steamer City of Toledo is becoming more popular every day and is well patronized, showing that the citizens of Toledo and vicinity are pleased with a first-class boat.

UNION MEETINGS.

Carpenters and Builders Association Meet To-night.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Carpenters' and Builders' association at the Builders' exchange rooms this evening. The meeting will be an important one, matters pertaining to the coming excursion, requiring attention. Nearly all of the general contractors who belong to the association will do no business on Saturday, and their employes will take in the excursion.

To-morrow (Wednesday) evening, occurs the reguar meeting of the members of the Builders' Exchange. Matters of great importance are to be attended to, and it is necessary that every member be present.

The Salesmen's association meets this evening at Turley's hall.

The painters meet to-night at Clarke's hall.

Bricklayers' union meets this evening at Mulcahey's hall.

Barbers' union, No. 5, meets to-night.

Machinists association, No. 105, meets at Turley's hall to-morrow evening.

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

A Desperate Villain Attempts Assault on a Little Girl.

Mrs. John Delger, residing at Manhattan, reports to the police that this morning an unknown man followed her little 9-year-old daughter and caught her near the Eagle brewery ice house and assaulted her. Two men heard the child's screams and rushed to her aid. The villain took to his heels.

THE OHIO YACHT CLUB.

The Members and Their Ladies Will Dance Again.

The directors of the Ohio Yacht club will hold a meeting Friday evening. Next week Friday the regular meeting of the club will be held at the island. The entertainment committee have arrnaged to have a dancing party after the meeting, which will be short. A large party of ladies and gentlemen are going down. Later in the month a concert will be given at the island.

TWO FLY COVES

Hold a Man Up and Get Only Ten Cents.

Ed Hawkins and George Glasgon were arrested last night as suspicious persons. They were released at 11 o'clock this morning. They had not been out an hour when they were arrested for holding up a man on the Lake Shore tracks. Fortunately the man only had ten cents, but they took that, little as it was. Detective Glazier followed them up, arrested them and landed them at the police station, where the charge of larceny from the person was placed against their names.

PASSING COUNTERFEITS.

C. T. Taylor, a Peddler on the Pennsylvania, Pinched.

C. T. Taylor, a young man who peddles on the Pennsylvania railroad trains, was arrested by Detective McLaughlin of the road on suspicion of having been engaged in the passing of counterfeit money in making change in sales to people on the train.

The detective's suspicions were aroused to such an extent that he arrested young Taylor, although he had no definite evidence.

On searching the boy a large quantity of counterfeit money was found on his person.

He was bound over to the common pleas court and bail fixed at $500.

CADETS ON WHEELS.

How They Looked to One Who Had Never Seen Such a Sight.

In last evening's Cincinatti Times-Star is a column on the Second regiment's camp at Presque Isle, which is full of happy things about it. This paragraph appears relative to the Toledo Cadets:

Capt. McMaken and his Toledo Cadets gave an exhibition bicycle drill after regimental parade. Fifty-three "safeties" careering over the broad (and rough) parade ground to the bugle call was certainly a novel sight. Every movement was performed that is done on foot. The movements were followed with applause. There were 53 wheels in line. This is the only company in the world, with the exception, possibly, of one in France, that is thus equipped. The machines cost $5,000, and the cadets paid for them. In coming from camp the 16 miles from Bowling Green to Grand Rapids were made in one hour and 28 minutes, with a four-minutes' stop for water; and the two men of the detail, in going, made eight miles in 32 minutes in weather that would have killed a horse.

THE GAS TRUSTEES.

Regular Weekly Meeting—The Council Asked to Confirm the New Members.

Mayor Emmick met with the gas trustees yesterday afternoon and talked the gas situation over for upwards of two hours.

Nothing but general routine business was transacted, and will not be until the lame condition of the board in the matter of members can be fixed up.

It was decided, after some discussion, to ask the common council to confirm Mayor Emmick's appointments, and a resolution to that effect was passed and forwarded to the council.

It was also decided to present a full statement of the condition of the plant for the public, and the manager, at the next meeting, will have such a statement ready.

Incidentally it was intimated that the press of the city was unfair in its treatment of the gas trustees and refused to publish the facts as they existed.

There were no reporters present at the meeting yesterday for the reason that the papers were not notified of a meeting.

Otherwise the papers give fair and full accounts of all meetings. The trouble is to get the facts.

THREE TRUE TOLEDO TALES.

An Irish Leddy's Faux Pas—A Heartless Sister and a Doting Parent.

A certain gentleman connected in a professional way with our public schools was very attentive to a young lady in Toledo society. They were sitting close and chatting, in an old-time closed car, with a space either side, sufficient, however, to accommodate a portly person. A broad Irish woman came in with a basket of freshly ironed linen on her arm. Mr. Blank moved along and as Miss Nameless was about to move up, the good woman planked down between them, basket and all. The expression on the faces of the separated pair must have given them away. "Goodness gracious," exclaimed the broad, good-natured woman, "an' is it parting man and wife I am, you must excuse me; I was too stupid entoirely." The bevy of school girls on the seat opposite who understood the situation, tittered. The moral (and the names) will appear in an engagement soon to be made public.

There are two pretty young ladies in Toledo society, sisters and twins. They so closely resemble each other they are able to deceive and confuse even those who are well acquainted with them. They enjoy the sport by dressing precisely alike. A young man from out of the city became quite enamored of one of the sisters, and had never met the other. He invited her to go with him on a City of Toledo excursion and she accepted. The young lady was charmingly dressed, wore a bewildering spotted veil, and the gallant young beau had to have the matter explained to him when "the boys" guyed him about taking a lady for a boat-ride whom he had never met before.

Madame L. is exceedingly fond of antiques and buys with great judgment and discrimination. She had a quaint old chair which she ran across, sent up to her father's house the other day (where she is a summer guest). Her fond father, attending an auction a day or so later, surprised his daughter by having brought home to her an ark-like old barouche. And now the jolly man who knows a heap about a good many other things if he isn't up on woman's fads, cannot understand why an old barouche to ride in isn't as delightful to an antiquist as an old chair to sit in.

TWO HOTEL MEN

Injured in a Runaway—The Small Boy Escapes Right Side Up with Care.

Last night about 7 o'clock the neighbors in the vicinity of Monroe and Bancroft streets were startled by a racket created by a lively runaway. Two horses hitched to a spring wagon were tearing along at a lively rate of speed. The occupants were thrown violently to the ground, two of the men being seriously injured and one badly cut about the face, while the small boy miraculously escaped uninjured. The men proved to be Victor Berg, proprietor of the hotel at Sylvania; Joseph Smith, of the hotel at Matmore; Frank Kimball, a companion, and Mr. Smith's son.

At the corner of Lawrence avenue and Monroe street a bolt came out of the tongue, allowing it to fall, thus frightening the horses. The wagon was demolished.

Dr. Tracy was called, and with the aid of neighbors the men were relieved until McGlynn's ambulance arrived, when they were conveyed to St. Vincent's hospital. It was thought that Berg was injured internally. Smith's collar bone was dislocated and his ankle badly sprained.

The injured are reported as being some better to-day, although both are confined at the hospital.

REAL ESTATE AUCTIONS.

The Suggestion of Mr. Geo. E. Pomeroy a Good One.

At the last meeting of the National Real Estate Association, says the Chicago Tribune, George E. Pomeroy, of Toledo, read a paper on local real estate boards, including suggestions as to the proper methods of establishing them. The auction room feature is referred to as follows:

In a city where it is the custom to buy at auction, a local board can be made a success, but the main and prominent success will be on the public sales held at the board room.

To bring about such a condition it would be highly advantageous for the board to own its own building, thereby placing itself in the community as an organization of responsibility; and holding such a position, the step to acquire the authorization of the sheriff's and commissioner's sales within its precincts would be a matter comparatively easy to bring about.

This property should be owned by the board, built on bonds and stock; but the management of the board should not be in the hands of the property stockholders alone. The reason for this is obvious. If you require every member to own a share of stock sooner or later you will find that the shares have settled into the hands of the capitalists of the board and a feeling at once arises between the two factions that impairs or destroys the efficiency of the organization.

A local board, therefore, can be safely started with the expense of an efficient secretary and a room in which to hold meetings, which I believe should not be attempted daily, but say once or twice a week. That is a practical working nucleus of a board. The expense is light and the members will bear it.

On this foundation you can put the scheme of the building, and on the building you can add your auction business, and if you have the business of the courts, you can supplement it with your own offerings publicly.

If it were not for the immense dealing in futures, or what is better known as options, the great trade of the country would cut a comparatively small figure and the exchange would be as quiet as a real estate board must necessarily be.

The Flats Canal is in American Water.

Government Reports to the Above Effect.

Vessel Passages Through the Lakes and Rivers—General Marine News.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 2.—Secretary S. A. Thompson, of the chamber of commerce, an authority on the subject, to-day, in an interview on Canadian retaliation in the matter of the St. Clair Flats canal, which they claim lies in Canadian territory, said:

"The Canadian claim that the entire canal runs through Canadian waters and territory cannot be upheld for a moment. In the first place, Great Britain conceded exclusive ownership, control, and jurisdiction of the canal to the United States by the treaty of Washington, ratified in 1871.

"On Sept. 4, 1888, resolutions passed the senate requesting the secretary of war to report whether channels in ordinary use in Detroit and St. Clair rivers, including St. Clair Flats canal, were in waters under jurisdiction of the United States or the Dominion of Canada.

"Under date of November 14, 1888, the secretary of war made report showing that 585 feet of the north end of the easterly pier is in Canadian territory, but it is of really no practical importance.

"The canal is 300 feet wide and the boundary line crosses in such a manner that fifty feet at the upper end is in Canadian territory, leaving a clear space of 250 feet between the westerly pier and the international boundary line—ample room for navigation. They will never be able to shut us out."

Buffalo.

Buffalo, Aug. 2.—Coal freights are seemingly at a dead standstill this morning, and no charters were reported up to noon.

Chicago.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Grain rates advanced to 2 1-4c on wheat to Buffalo to-day, and were strong at that figure.

The feeling amon marine men was decidedly bullish on rates. The cause of it was the prospect of a big movement of new wheat.

Duluth.

Duluth, Aug. 2.—Two vessels were chartered yesterday afternoon and one this morning at 3c for wheat to Buffalo. The slow movement of grain was the cause of the drop from 3 1-4c.

Marine Law Suits.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—The steamer Nebraska, lately transferred into a passenger boat, was libeled at Milwaukee for a $14,000 repair bill. The schooner Dashing Wave has libeled her cargo of lumber from Oscoda for freight.

Ore Rates.

Cleveland, Aug. 2.—Brokers say they could furnish 50 loads of coal for Lake Michigan ports on short notice, but the supply for the head of Lake Superior is barely equal to the demand. Although all ore rates are firm vessel owners are not pursuing the course of the past two weeks. Boats are not being held, but are chartered a few days ahead, according to the usualy custom.

Lactated Food Kept Her Well.

Mr. J. B. Henderson, of Burlington, Va., says:

"The photograph of my little Marjorie, which I send you herewith, shows that her use of lactated food has been perfectly satisfactory. Living exclusively upon this food for months, without a sick day, is the best evidence that lactated food thoroughly nourishes. She had but little trouble while cutting her teeth, and I ascribe this to the bone-forming properties of the food, and that it prevents irritation of the stomach and bowels."

Marjorie.

MR. GLADSTONE'S CONDITION.

London, Aug. 2.—Mr. Gladstone will remain indoors to-day by advice of his physician, who, however, does not consider it necessary to call again as he says that the patient has recovered. Mr. Gladstone arose at 11 o'clock and joined his secretary in his study.

A Question of Rights.

The question of rights as applied to the closing of the world's fair on the first day in the week—constitutional rights and moral rights—is wide open for discussion. By pledge and profession, the law-making power of the United States is entirely free from sectarian influence. Church and state are absolutely divorced in legislation. Yet, by enacting that the world's fair shall be closed on the first day of the week and open on all others, congress deliberately legislates in favor of a body of Christians, ignoring entirely the rights of other religious bodies. There are, in this country, 30,000 Seventh-Day Adventists; 10,000 Seventh-Day Baptists; 4,176 in communistic Christian societies like the Shakers, Separatists, etc., a portion or all of whom keep the Seventh day holy; there are 41,541 Mennonites; 69,109 Dunkards, and 150,000 Jews whose names are on the books of the synagogues of the country, who believe that as "the Lord rested on the Seventh day," they are commanded to do likewise. In addition to these Seventh-day worshipers, the number of whom aggregates 304,906, there are 18,093 independent religionists who are not strict Sabbatarians. There are a goodly number within the churches who oppose a closing law which may offset the number of those outside the church who favor it; and all organizations of laboring men and women have resolved in opposition to it. If our legislators had any moral or constitutional right to meddle with the question at all, there is doubt if a closing law would express the sentiment of the majority.

As to the moral right, upon which constitutional right is popularly supposed to be founded, there is, perhaps, no better authority than Francis Wayland, the eminent Baptist divine, graduate of Andover, president of Brown University and Professor of Moral Philosophy, a text-book in denominational colleges for the last forty years, more or less. He says:

"Is it the duty of the civil magistrate to enforce the observance of the Sabbath? We are inclined to think not, and for the following reasons: The duty arises solely from our relations to God, and not from our relations to man. Now, our duties to God are never to be placed within the control of human legislation.

"If the civil magistrate has a right to take cognizance of this duty to God, he has a right to take cognizance of every other. And, if he have a right to take cognizance of the duty, he has a right to prescribe in what manner it shall be discharged. The concession of this right would, therefore, lead to direct interference with liberty of conscience.

"The keeping of the Sabbath is a moral duty. Hence, if it be acceptably observed, it must be a voluntary service. To allow the civil magistrate to enforce the observance of the Sabbath, would be to surrender to him the control over the conscience, without attaining even the object for which the surrender was made."

Elder Evans, the leader of the Shakers, writes to the poet, Whittier (who, as a Quaker, or Friend, has his own thoughts on the subject) "to close the fair on the first-day, is to oblige many religionists to lose two days of it every week." These citations from authorities make it plain to the unprejudiced mind that congress has no right at all, either moral or constitutional, to say that the gates of the Fair shall be locked upon any day in the week.

At a meeting of the natural gas trustees yesterday the statement was made by a trustee that the papers refuse to print the news of the plant. This is a gross injustice. As a rule the papers of Toledo are anxious to print all the news, but the trouble lies with the management itself. There is too much mysteriousness around the office and altogether too much concealment of news that legitimately belongs to the people. The Bee will be pleased to print, and its readers will be glad to read, all the news of the city gas business.

The California coasters are studying a lesson in the protection-reciprocity combination. They have built up a good trade with Australia for canned fruits. Since the McKinley law has shut out Australian wool, the Australians have concluded to "reciprocate" by putting a prohibitive tax on American canned goods. The industry has become one of much importance in the coast states, from which ports they are shipped direct, and the discussion of cause and effect is assuming large proportions.

Our Talmage's mouth is in splendid working trim, as he goes raging about on the other side of the sea. He told the Londoners, in a recent sermon, that "the queen's name is never heard in the United States but with rapturous applause; when I pray in America for the president, I am very apt to add, God save the queen." The London News calls this "a dose of manufactured blarney." Wait till "Our Chauncey" arrives there and gets on his after-dinner feet.

Toledo wants parks, all of them that the city can pay for. But there is even a pressing need of good roads in every direction leading out into the city's "constituency." We shall never have clean streets until the country roads are built and kept repaired and clean. We also need public bath houses and swimming baths. The old-world cities shame us in these respects.

Tom Watson is getting reminded that he is too fresh. Did he suppose United States legislators were necessarily, entirely sober when they made speeches? He has succeeded in deluging the newspaper world with a job lot of dreadful puns on corned Cobb, and of furnishing the Bidwell and Cranfill ticket with a campaign starter.

Myra Clark Gaines had "the faith of inventors and martyrs," in her legal fight for her property rights in New Orleans. The city has given the administrators of her estate a check for $923,788. Victory came to her as fame comes to the poets—"when death has bleached the forehead to the bone."

Negroes are crowding into Oklahoma, in some instances leaving their own crops in the south unharvested and unsold. Whoever is to blame for this periodical hegira that always ends in disaster, is a foe to the black man as well as the indignant white settler in the new state.

There is no partisanship in the manner in which congress is defending itself, individually and collectively, from the accusation of tippling. Innocents on the outside are getting pointers as to the significance of "leg drunk," "dead drunk," "toddy in teacups," etc.

The prohibitionists who are holding a sort of camp meeting in the vicinity of New York city are dumbfounded at proof that the "liquor interests" are helping to circulate their harangues in favor of closing the world's fair Sundays.

The Chicago Printer tells the story of Nominee Reid's quarrel with union printers, and his hustle to reverse it all when he heard the bee buzz loudly in his bonnet. Strange how suddenly self interest can precipitate a change of heart.

A firm in Paris is building a 10,000-dollar piano, for the Chamberlain of the Czar. And the poor peasantry need more aid from outside governments to keep them from starvation.

The rain storms in the west have already affected the prices of cereals, which shows the farmer pretty plainly what influences control the value of his products.

"See how the farmers prosper when factories spring up in their midst," shouts a high tax orator. Exactly; look at the deserted farms of New England.

Mr. Cleveland's letters, collected into book form, might answer for "The Model Letter Writer for Politicians."

The "we have got them on the run" stage of the campaign comes early this season.

MR. JOHN H. PUCK

Will Succeed the Late Dr. Jones as a Member

Of the Board of Trustees of the Toledo Memorial Association—Mayor Emmick Makes a Good Selection.

Since the death of Dr. W. W. Jones, Mayor Emmick has been looking around for a suitable citizen to replace the deceased gentleman on the board of trustees of the Toledo Memorial Association.

He has struck the right man in the person of Mr. John H. Puck, and Mr. Puck's name will be presented at a joint meeting of the council that will probably be held next Monday evening.

Speaking with a Bee this morning Mayor Emmick said:

"I have been looking around for a good man and think I have found him in Mr. Puck."

"Have you appointed Mr. Puck?"

"Yes, I have. I told him the other day what I was going to do, and he said he would accept it."

BLOCK OF BANK STOCK

The Merchants' National Sells at One-Seventy.

W. S. Daly Disposes of 40 Shares at That Price—Great Advance Over Previous Sales.

There seems to be no decline in the value of Toledo bank stock. It continues to climb steadily onward and upward.

This morning Mr. W. S. Daly sold 40 shares of Merchants' National stock at $170—the highest price ever paid for it.

Fifteen minutes after the deal was consummated the purchaser was offered $171 He held it at $175.

The last sale made brought 162 1-2 and this was an increase of 7 1-2 over the previous sale a few months before.

There is no Toledo bank stock in the market, and when a block does appear it is picked up just too quick.

THE TIFFIN RIFLES

Welcomed Home in a Royal Manner.

The Citizens Turn Out With a Band and Fireworks—Speeches and a Happy Time—The Bee Gets Three Cheers.

The Tiffin Rifles, Company E, Second regiment, O. N. G., returned home, accompanied by a Bee, last evening from Camp Forsyth, Presque Isle, and received a most royal welcome. A crowd of fully 500 people, including the best citizens, headed by a band, marched to the Pennsylvania depot to greet the boys, and when they alighted from the cars a hearty cheer was sent up. A procession was immediately formed and a march about a mile long was made through the principal streets. The whole line of march was crowded with people, and was made as bright as day by a blaze of fireworks and colored lights.

During the march the company performed various manoeuvres, and were roundly cheered many times.

The parade ended on the court house square, where a large concourse of citizens had assembled. Here the company was welcomed back home and complimented for the good work by Mr. George E. Schroth and Judge U. F. Cramer. Capt. Carle in a neat speech thanked the people for their reception, and explained some of the work they had performed in camp. The meeting then dispersed, after giving three cheers for the Tiffin Rifles.

This company is composed of the best young men of the city, who take a deep interest in their work as soldiers, and are determined to make their company not only the best in the Second regiment, but the equal of any in the state. It is evident from the reception last evening that the citizens appreciate this and will give them the liberal support that they deserve.

One of the incidents of the company's return was three rousing cheers for the Toledo Bee, given just as the train was leaving the station.

On the way home the boys composed a company yell and sprung it upon the citizens of Tiffin. It is:

Hurrah, hooray, hooree,
We are Company E;
The Tiffin Rifles
Don't mind trifles,
We're the Second O. N. G.

REACHING OUT.

Whitney and Lamont Purchase More Street Railroads.

New York, Aug. 2.—It was stated yesterday that the Eighth avenue street railway, of which Mr. George Law is president and the heaviest stockholder, was purchased yesterday by the Metropolitan Traction company, in which Messrs. Whitney, Lamont, Elkins, and Widener are interested.

The price is understood to have been $3,000,000, half of which was in stock of the Metropolitan company.

AN AMERICAN CONSUL'S DEATH.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 2.—Mr. Hogbarth Saalgard, vice consul of Sweden and Norway, is dead. Spinal trouble was the cause.

TEN THOUSAND KILLED.

Slumbering Gunong Aroo Becomes Active

And Devastates an Entire Island.

Later and Fuller Reports of the Awful Eruption on the Great Sangier.

New York, Aug. 2.—A Victoria, B. C., special to the World says: The steamer Empress of India, from Japan, brings additional details of the disastrous volcanic eruption on Great Sangier Island. Without any warning signal, without any sign whatever of impending disturbance, the Gunong Aroo volcano blazed forth on June 7, and within twenty-four hours the whole of the prosperous surrounding country was devastated. The loss of life is something frightful, but no accurate estimate of it can be made. Some places it is as high as 10,00. The captain of a ship which took assistance to the sufferers says that 10,000 is not too high a figure as an estimate of the number of dead. A thousand bodies have been picked up on the shore and many were found floating in the sea. The whole island is completely devastated, and although the violent eruption has ceased, volumes of smoke are rising, accompanied by steam and ashes. Inhabitants of Sangier Island, living within the shadows of a dormant crater, had tilled the soil and prospered, their chief industry being the growing of nutmegs, cocoanut and grapes, the product being regularly shipped abroad. The villages and towns were well built, and had schools and churches.

The awful devastation began at 8 o'clock on the morning of June 7. There was a terrible rumble, a column of ruddy flame shot up from the crater as high in the heavens as the eye could reach and immediately afterwards hot ashes were falling like snowflakes over the whole country. Dust was flying in all directions and from 9 o'clock that evening fierce volumes of flame and smoke and showers of large stones were belched forth, followed by rain, which fell in torrents, bringing down with it the clouds of ashes that were flying though the air. This continued all night and the whole of the next day.

Earthquakes began June 9. Village after village was engulfed, hundreds of people dropping into the great cracks in the earth. The whole country is under a layer of mud, ashes, and stones. All vegetation is either burned up by the awful heat of the volcanic fires or has been destroyed by dense showers of ashes and dust. The country around Gunong Aroo and the sides of the hills were still steaming and smoking on June 25, numerous volcanic jets throwing up columns of mud and stones, which fell in showers over the district, forming into hot streams, which, in their downward course, carried everything before them. The district on the north side of the island is utterly destroyed, nutmeg and cocoa plantations being laid in ruins, and in many cases completely buried under the ashes, mud, and lava from the crater.

Among others who saw the island after the outbreak was Captain J. Gray, of the steamship Norway, which had been sent with a cargo of rice from Mendanao to relieve the sufferers. He says the whole island, viewed from the westward, presented a most forlorn appearance. Volumes of smoke could be seen issuing from the volcano, accompanied by fine ashes, which spread like a cloud over the island, and fell thickly everywhere. Small jets of steam, smoke and stones were pouring out from the mountain sides, completely covering the lower valleys and lands. The entire topography of the island was changed.

On the night of the outbreak, two Norwegian barks, the Primra and the Fashion, were in Toroana bay, but got to sea without damage. In a pretty harbor on the northeast side of the island the Dutch ships Terbekla and Grippa were loading nutmegs. They, too, sustained little injury fortunately, because there was no tidal wave.

The report of the first explosion was heard at Ternate, Gorontalo and Mandanao, which are respectively 210, 240, and 216 miles distant.

The lava streams were confined to the northern slopes of the mountain. In the Toboekan district not a single village remains, while thousands of the inhabitants were killed in the overflow.

The village of Lorena, on the south side of the mountain, protected by a ridge of hills, some of them 1,800 feet high, is covered with ashes, dust and stones. Cocoanut plantations on both sides of Lorena bay are destroyed, but in the town itself there was comparatively little loss of life. To the westward of the town, after passing the foot of the ridge, the scene is one of complete desolation and devastation. The suffering among those who escaped with their lives has been most acute. All the food on the island was destroyed, and but for the prompt assistance of the neighboring islands many would have starved.

"The whole of the island," says one writer, "is a mass of smoldering ruins. The people who lived and prospered there have lost all they ever had, and now the only thing for them to do is to leave for another and more favored spot, or stay there and die."

AUGUSTUS REDDING DIES

From Injuries Inflicted by an Unknown.

He Was a Respected Citizen of West Toledo—General Sympathy Expressed for the Bereaved Family.

Augustus Redding died at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at his home in West Toledo, from injuries received at the hands of a burglar Sunday morning. The story of how Mr. Redding missed goods from his store, laid in wait for the thief and received the fatal injuries is well known by this time. It was a most deplorable occurrence, and the family have the sympathy of all in their affliction.

Augustus Redding belonged to one of the oldest families of West Toledo. He was a gentleman respected by all with whom he had dealings. He was 37 years of age, and had been in the grocery and boot and shoe business in West Toledo about three years. For a number of years previous to that time he resided in New York.

Doctors Gillette, Anderson and Miller made an autopsy yesterday and found that the bullet had entered the liver. Coroner Beckwith will make an investigation to-morrow. It is a severe trial to the family, and they desire to thank all who have assisted them during their troubles.

The funeral will occur to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the West Toledo M. E. church. Rev. N. S. Brackney will officiate.

THE UNION NOT IN IT.

The C., B. & Q. Did Business With the Men Simply as Employes.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—An agreement between the officials of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and representatives of the employes of the road by the terms of which a subsantial general raise in the wages of the employes was granted went into effect to-day. A conference between the officials and twenty-six delegates representing every division of the "Q" system was held in the company's office here last week and a new and satisfactory scale was agreed upon. Representatives were not sent by any order or association. They represented the employes of the road only.

STILL LANGUISHING.

The Council and the Gas Ordinance.

Several Amendments Offered Go Up in Smoke—Billy Cook's Bondsmen—Communications of Various Kinds.

There was the usual grist of sidewalk, sewer and street ordinances and resolutions passed and adopted at the regular session of the council last evening, but the principal business of the evening was the matter of fixing the price of natural gas, which wasn't fixed, however, as the proceedings will show.

Mr. Manchester moved to amend the gas ordinance fixing the price at 20 cents for a period ending June 1, 1897. He thought 20 cents was the proper price, as at present it took three or four wells to supply the gas that two years ago would flow from one well. "I don't think," he said, "that we should fix a lower price than 20 cents. The Northwestern company say they will not make a lower rate than 20 cents, and we should not invite litigation in this matter."

It was stated that the company's franchise expires in 1896, and that no action should be taken for a period beyond that time.

Mr. Gill made a second amendment to fix the time at June 1, 1893. He didn't believe in tying the city up on an ordinance of this kind.

Mr. Taylor thought that the price should be fixed at 20 cents. It had been his experience that every time a change in the price was made there was an increase.

Mr. Nuendorf spoke in favor of a 15-cent ordinance.

The roll was called on Mr. Gill's amendment fixing the time for expiration in 1893, and it was lost, as follows:

Ayes—Daly, Gill, Nuendorf, Rutherford, Tanner, Walker—6.

Nays—Felker, Lee, Manchester, Morris, Schmidt, Schmuhl, Taylor, Coleman—8.

Mr. Manchester having withdrawn the second part of his amendment, relative to the time of expiration, the roll was called on the first part, that of fixing the price at 20 cents.

It resulted seven to seven, as follows:

Ayes—Daly, Felker, Gill, Manchester, Tanner, Taylor, Walker.

Nays—Lee, Morris, Nuendorf, Rutherford, Schmidt, Schmuhl, Coleman.

Mr. Schmidt offered another amendment—that the price be made 22 cents with 5 per cent. discount. It was not seconded.

The rules were suspended for the second reading of the 15-cent ordinance. The vote was as follows:

For—Felker, Lee, Manchester, Morris, Nuendorf, Coleman—6.

Against—Daly, Gill, Rutherford, Schmidt, Schmuhl, Tanner, Taylor, Walker—8.

The matter will come up again in two weeks.

A communication from Chief Engineer Rockwell, of the Lake Shore, was read, in which it was stated that the Consolidated street railway company was about to run cars over the Broadway bridge, that the structure was unsafe and that the Lake Shore would not be responsible.

Mr. Manchester moved that the Lake Shore be requested to build a new bridge at that point. Carried.

A. Smith notified the council by letter that he had been appointed superintendent of the free employment bureau.

A communication from the gas trustees was also read, stating that the board could not transact any business until the vacancies were filled and immediate action in the matter was requested.

The resolution authorizing the city solicitor to settle with ex-Police Clerk Cook's bondsmen for $2,500, was adopted.

The ways and means committee reported that a communication from the county treasurer in reference to delinquent taxes on property was referred to the city solicitor and auditor, and that a resolution was adopted instructing the city clerk to engage two assistants at a salary not to exceed $75 a month, during the recording of special assessments; also that the communication from Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook, in reference to gas bonds, was laid over for a week.

The report of the committee was approved.

BOUGHT THE BONDS.

Fostoria Places $168,000 of Her's in Toledo.

Spitzer & Co. Closes the Purchase This Morning With a Committee of Fostorians.

D. T. Brown and C. P. Godfrey, members of the committee on finance of Fostoria's common council, were here to-day, and in behalf of Fostoria closed the deal whereby Spitzer & Co., of this city, purchased $168,000 worth of Fostoria's sewer bonds.

Spitzer & Co., were the highest bidders and therefore secured the block.

Mr. A. L. Spitzer, who, by the way, is greatly improved in health since his European trip, said to a Bee this morning that his firm were handling unusually large blocks of bonds and the market for them was unusually good.

FORESTERS DAY IN TOLEDO

The Courts Will Have a Big Turn Out.

Prizes for Everybody and the Baby.

Preparations Made to Royally Entertain the Friends of the Various Courts.

On August 15 will occur Foresters' day, or Liberty day, at the fair grounds. The entertainment furnished by the Foresters in the past warrants the assertion that this year it will be all that anybody could ask. There will be a base ball game between the Starrs and the Hudsons, four bicycle races, four running races, sack race, potato race, greased pole, throwing the hammer, and voting contests on the prettiest baby, smallest baby, most popular lady, most popular Forester, in the city, and the homeliest man on the grounds.

Prizes have been arranged for all these events and will be on exhibition in the window of J. L. & J. B. Hudson.

The horse race will be the principal event of the day and will occur at 2 o'clock. The entries are as follows:

Willard M., 2:14, V. H. Ketcham.
Little Tony, 2:28 1-2, Billy Wilson.
Patsy Collins, 2:28 1-2, Marshall Anson.
Brewery Boy, 2:23, Al Baldwin.

The horses will all be driven by their owners, and the contest, three in five, will doubtless attract general interest.

The prizes for the horse race are worthy a warm contest. They are as follows:

First prize, harness and blanket, $45.
Second prize, bridle and whip. $14.
Third prize, horse suit, $5.
Fourth prize, fancy whip, $4.

All the prizes for the horse race were donated by Capt. T. F. Shipherd, and are only such as would come from a man of the captain's characteristics.

The celebration is under the auspices of the Foresters of the entire city, and the following committees have had it in charge:

Court Toledo—John Glattis, R. M. Parke, G. W. Rook.

HOTEL BURNED.

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 2.—At an early hour this morning the Pacific hotel was discovered to be on fire. The guests were quickly awakened by the night clerk, and although some of them suffered the loss of their wardrobe, all reached the outside in safety. The flames were confined to the upper portion of the building. The damage is about $5,000.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Wauseon, O., Aug. 2.—(Special)—Scofield & Sons' furniture and undertaking establishment at Morenci, Mich., was entirely burned this morning. Loss, $15,000. Insurance on stock, $4,000; on building, $3,500.

THE TROPHY IS HERE.

Toledo Trapshooters and Smokeless Powder.

Date Set for the Contest With North Baltimore—The Cup is a Daisy.

Geo. Osborn, of this city, has secured the mammoth silver cup known as the Sporting Review Trophy. It is solid silver, gold lined, handsomely chased, and is as large as a water pail. It is inscribed "Emblematic of the Team Championship of the Ohio Trap Shooters' League."

The local team now holding the cup is composed of Acklin, Osborn, Rushmore and Spross. They have been challenged by the North Baltimore team and to-day it was settled to have the match come off Wednesday, August 10, at North Baltimore.

A Bee dropped in on Mr. Osborn after business hours and found him engaged in dishing up some white stuff and pouring it into shells.

"What is that?" asked the reporter.

"Smokeless powder," replied Mr. Osborn.

It is not generally known that the smokeless powder had become a commercial article, but it has been manufactured at two places in New Jersey and at London, England. One can harly imagine powder as anything but the black flakey article so familiar. The new smokeless powder has many peculiar properties. When in a shell it projects the charge with greater rapidity and has better penetration than the ordinary powder. Still strange to say, when unconfined it does not flash up when ignited like the black powder, but burns slowly as if it had plenty of time and was not at all dangerous. It looks like timothy seed as much as anything and is pure white in color, although some varieties are orange, yellow and green. Mr. Osborn strewed a littel on a board an ignited it. While one end burned up slowly he removed half the pile with his hands. This could not be done with the old article as many a small boy knows to his sorrow. It is said, too, that it is unaffected by dampness.

All the members of the Toledo team use the smokless powder.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—"Civil Service Gazette."

"CONFIDENCE BEGETS LOVE."

CHILD. "Gran'ma, kiss me good-night. Sister is asleep, but we so love to hear you tell of all the ladies that call you Mother."

MRS. PINKHAM. "Yes, darling, when you are older perhaps you may do as I have done."

CHILD. "Everybody loves you, gran'ma; I wish everybody would love me."

MRS. PINKHAM. "Everyone will love you, my child, if they can confide in you."

The above dialogue tells its own story; even the little child, without knowing why her grandmother is so universally loved, sees in her face a light of intellectual sympathy that satisfies her. That sympathy has extended itself all over the world, for wherever civilized women exist, Mrs. Pinkham is known and reverenced.

THE POET'S LUNCHEON.

He pondered as he slowly strolled,
And sighed because the wind was cold,
As swirling eddies roughly toyed
About a lonesome, aching void.
As on his bitter cud he chews
He humbly prays the fleeting muse
To help him seek some light repast,
That he may break his lingering fast.
What's this he sees? O vision rare—
A table laid with goodly care,
Where little neck and consomme
Are ready to prepare the way.
And broiled live lobster to begin.
Then reed birds, duck and terrapin,
With baked stuffed peppers which suggest
A happy mingling of the rest—
Rare Southdown mutton, Roman punch,
Ye gods! it is a glorious lunch.
And on the table comme il faut
There stands a quart of Veuve Cliquot,
Dessert and coffee, Roquefort cheese,
And choice Havana smoked at ease
A calm contented feeling give
Which makes this life seem fit to live!

THIRST FOR BLOOD.

We were sitting beside the great stone fireplace in the Clarendon hotel at the gold camp of Cripple Creek, Col., writes John Spears in the New York Sun, talking of the various phases of mining camp life and the peculiarities of mountain towns, when I remarked that the only way to make such a town absolutely unique was to make it dry in the Kansas or Iowa sense. At that Harry Wilson of the Rock Island railroad company, who was sitting next to me, said:

"Dry towns in the west are not so scarce as you would imagine. In Colorado they are called local option towns. Communities can vote for the suppression of the liquor traffic if they will, and that reminds me of a curious experience one of our agents had some years ago in such a town. The story illustrates a phase of human nature in a way that I think will interest you.

"The town was so completely opposed to the liquor traffic that every officer of the law—mayor, justice of the peace, policemen, constable, deputy sheriff, and so on—was a rank prohibitionist, or at least pretended to be; nevertheless a remnant loved wine and beer and took whisky when the lighter drinks failed. Naturally they ordered goods from wholesale dealers elsewhere and had them shipped over our road. Naturally, too, some on getting the goods sold them to personal acquaintances—did the bootleg trade, you know. To stop this trade officers of the law kept an eye on all packages arriving by freight, and, of course, sometimes made mistakes—seized the wrong goods to the annoyance of the patrons of the road. It was no part of the duty of our agent there to enforce the local law; it was his duty to protect our patrons from annoyance. An order was issued by the company directing him to deliver all goods to consignees only, and to keep all other persons from the freight house and platform.

"A short time after this a policeman who had been selected for the post, because his record seemed to point him out as well fitted for the place, came on the platform after a train arrived, and began examining packages. The agent told him courteously to leave. The policeman refused, and after some words the agent kicked him off. Both men went for their guns on the instant, but the agent got the drop, and the policeman had to take a sneak.

That evening friends came to the agent and told him that the policeman had sworn revenge at the first opportunity. The policeman had in his time shot two men and slashed a third with a knife. Moreover, he was an officer of the law and in case he killed the agent could very readily claim that it was in the discharge of his duty and secure an acquittal. It was a serious matter. The agent was advised to apply at once to be transferred to another station.

"He says now that as he listened to the advice a creepy sensation came over him from his feet up; a sensation of genuine fear, but his pride was too strong to let him go away, and buckling on a revolver he told his friends he would stay. Thereafter he never left his bedroom or walked the streets without it.

"At first he had but one thought in the matter—he must keep a sharp lookout to save his life. But very soon a feeling of indignation came to join the feeling of apprehension. It was an outrage that he should be compelled to carry a weapon in such a manner. The indignation grew; the policeman deserved death for his threats. The agent had never avoided the policeman, but now he began to take a little pains to meet him, just to see what he would do. A little later the indignation had grown into hate, and he not only sought the officer, but sneered in his face, devilishly eager to have a gesture or movement made that would serve for an excuse for opening the fight. He had carried a pistol at first to save his own life, but he had developed a thirst for blood that was rapidly becoming uncontrollable. He was saved from murdering the officer, perhaps in cold blood, by an order transferring him elsewhere. He had become so eager that he protested against the change. But he had to submit.

"Within a month after he had begun work elsewhere the feeling was gone, and he was overwhelmed with astonishment as he recalled his mental condition so short a time before. I know him to be a man who loves peace. He has no desire now to harm in any way that policeman, and yet I should be very sorry to have the two meet again, for I have no doubt the agent would kill him on the slightest provocation."

HOW TO MAKE HOME HAPPY.

He took off his coat in the hall, hung up his hat on the rack, and made a turn toward the dining room.

It was stone cold.

"Mary," he said, solemnly, as he found her in the library, "what does this mean, eh?"

"Sit down," she said sweetly, "I have been waiting for you."

"You have, eh?" he said glaring about. "Do you know, Mary, what the hour is?"

"I do, Harry."

"And do you know that I got up this morning at 6 o'clock, breakfasted off the stove hearth, and then hustled down town, where I have been working like a horse for fourteen hours?"

"Is—is it possible, Harry, dear?" she said, in syrupy tones.

"It is madam, and, what's more, I am as hungry as a bear; I want my supper. I am sick and tired of this sort of things. You do nothing but run about all day and leave things go to smash!"

"Have a care, Harry Armitage!" she said, with a pout.

"I know what I am talking about. I suppose you want me to do the usual favors?"

"If you please, Harry dear, you know; just dress little Tommy for dinner, peel the potatoes, build the kitchen fire, and get the coal up out of the cellar, eh?"

"I will do no such thing, madam, and what's more, to-morrow I will apply for a divorce. You are the laziest, most shiftless woman in New York!"

"Harry," said the woman, slowly, coming over and putting her arms around his neck, "you do not understand. I said I was waiting for you, and I have, too. I have a little surprise for you, dearest. Guess what it is?"

"Bah! on the guessing. I want my supper!"

"I will tell you in spite of all. I don't care if you get mad or not. It is this—"

"Stop!"

"I have just finished embroidering your new nightshirts, with red stars all around the collar!"

CLEVELAND'S REPORT

Made to the Board of Park Commissioners

After His Examination of the City.

The Up and Down the River Sites—The Ketcham Tract—Lower Town Marsh Grounds and Other Points.

The Bee last Saturday gave the views of Mr. H. W. S. Cleveland, of Minneapolis, on the question of parks, and now submits his views as given in a report made to the commissioners after he had examined the city:

In compliance with your request, I forward a summary of my observations, supplemental to the address which I had the honor of reading to you when in Toledo.

That address, as stated at its outset, was prepared with the sole object of laying before you some general principles in regard to parks, the value of which had been demonstrated to me by long experience, and which I could not doubt would possess interest for you in connection with the work you are entering upon.

At the time I prepared this address, my knowledge of Toledo was confined to what is seen from car windows on the line of the Lake Shore railroad. I was entirely ignorant of the fact that any portion of my remarks were peculiarly applicable to the topographical features I was to examine.

Begging you to bear in mind the principles which I set forth in that address, and to which I may have occasion to refer, I proceed to delineate as accurately as possible my application of them to the present and future wants of the city, so far as I am able to do from the examinations I have made.

My attention was called to a number of areas, large and small, which I was told were already the property of the city, or wree already the property of the city, or portant of which were the tracts on the river, shore at the opposite extremties of the present thickly populated district, and the tract of 280 acres on Ten Mile creek, bounded by Bancroft street, Auburndale extension, and the center line of section 28. Each of these is desirable on account of situation and capability of adaptation to the objects in view. The first one comprise the grounds pertaining to the House of Refuge, (no longer used for that purpose) the partially improved park adjoining them, and the river bank for considerable distance above, together with the islands opposite, which may easily be connected with the shore by bridges and are susceptible of development into very attractive and beautiful appendages to the proposed park.

It is needless to state that in designing a system of parks, the wants of the different sections of the city must be impartially considered. For a very large portion of the population in the southern part of the city this tract would be easily accessible, and it comprises such features of natural beauty that it could easily be made a most attractive resort, either as a drive or for pedestrians. The river banks are in themselves picturesque and well-wooded, and the views of the river and the deep bay opposite are full of beauty and interest. The opposite shore ought also to be secured for a similar use on that side of the river, and in order also to prevent their being used for purposes which might mar the beauty of the outlook from the point we are considering.

There is no question in my mind as to the desirability of securing this tract and developing its capabilities. Of course, I cannot in this case, or that of the other localities I examined, specify the exact boundaries of the area, which involves many considerations requiring more time than I had at command.

The tract at the other extremity of the city on the river shore, extending, say, from Buckeye to Galena street east of Summit street, and then widening so as to include the old orchard to Ohio street, is on some accounts even more desirable for preservation than the preceding.

In addition to the natural beauty which always pertains to a broad view of water, the scene is here enlivened by the ever-moving panorama of steamers and vessels on the river. This gives it a living interest the force of which is evinced by the crowds of visitors who seek it even now as a pleasant resort. North of the point where the railroad turns to the west from the river bank an opportunity is offered to widen the area sufficiently to afford space for a park for pedestrians, which, at small expense, could be made so attractive that it could not fail to be a favorite resort. This seems to be the only place still unoccupied on the river shore in this section that is available, and it would be a waste of words to attempt to set forth the obvious fact that as a matter of taste, and a means of developing what for all time would constitute a chief ornament of the city, its preservation is especially to be desired. As a landscape gardener, I can have no hesitation in asserting my conviction that if secured and tastefully arranged and planted, there is no point that would attract more visitors, or serve a more useful purpose as a resort for those who seek the relief of such a change. The only question in the case is that of the business interests which might be affected by it, and their comparative importance is without my province and is a subject you are much more competent than I to discuss.

The tract of 280 acres lying on both sides of Ten Mile creek is so far superior to the smaller areas on the river shore, in all the features that are most essential to the objects sought in park construction that it is the only one that would be really worthy of the name. The sites on the river shore are gems of their kind, and would be invaluable as pleasure resorts and places of rest and refreshment, but this is the only one which admits in its extent and variety of natural scenery, of the seclusion, and effects of rural landscape, which comprise the chief charm of a park. Its location in reference to the manufacturing as well as residence districts and its facilities of access, reneder its purchase for a park a very desirable object.

Before entering upon the subject of parkways and small public grounds which will forma prominent ornamental feature of your city, I desire to call your attention to the admirable opportunity which is offered you for acting on the suggestion I made in my preliminary address, on the wisdom of selecting for improvement areas which offered no naturally attractive features, but were, on the contrary, of such a character that no indidividual could attempt the task of making them habitable. When I wrote that address I was entirely ignorant of the existence of any natural feature in your city to which those remarks would be applicable, but if you will recur to them you cannot fail to perceive that, if I had been familiar with the topography of Toledo, I could hardly have used language more accurately descriptive of the great extent of low marshy ground, which winds its course through the northern portion of the city from Forest cemetery to the bay.

Here is precisely such a tract as I had in mind in my allusion to "large areas which are rendered objectionable for residence purposes by reason of some natural feature which cannot be removed by individual effort, and serves, therefore, to depreciate the value of all adjacent property. Such land can be had at a comparatively low price, and when a municipality has obtained control of the whole tract, it may be converted into a beautiful park, perhaps at much less than the original cost of the more attractive site, while the very act of its construction confers such increased value upon all adjacent property as will prove more than remunerative to the city treasury by its additional revenue from taxes."

Elsewhere I say: "I could cite cases in which large areas of swamp—too extensive for redemption by any individual—have been converted into parks by proper drainage and construction of lakes so as to become a chief ornament of the city instead of a standing nuisance, and of course the results to the city treasury corresponded to the enhanced value of the adjacent territory."

I do not recall any instance which offered so favorable an opportunity for the application of the principle here indicated as is afforded by the tract of low land which permeates the northern portion of your city. There is a great extent of land on each side admirably adapted for residence property, but no one will go there who can afford to go elsewhere, while the marsh remains, and no individual can redeem its offensiveness. If secured by the city it could all be redeemed by the dredging out of lakes in the lowest portions and using the material excavated for raising the shores, while the upper parts could be under-drained into these lakes, and the soil of the whole area is such as to insure luxuriant vegetation. By tasteful planting of trees and shrubbery with a judicious intermixture of broad lawn and a skillful disposition of roads and paths the whole space could be converted into a very beautiful park of a unique character, while the higher lands on each side would at once be made the most attractive residence sites in the city, and the final result would prove to be a repetition of New York's experience with Central park.

To my mind, it is a matter of primary importance to secure with as little delay as possible either the whole of this low land, or as much of it as may be necessary to consummate the work I have suggested. No one who has studied the growth of cities in this country will doubt the future necessity of Toledo for more park area than this tract will afford. The longer it is delayed the more difficult it will be to get possession of it, and portions of it are liable at any time to be occupied for purposes that would render it still more offensive and at the same time more difficult of purchase. In view of the enormous additional value such use of it would give to adjacent property, the propriety of making assessments in aid of its purchase will be obvious, and will doubtless be readily acceded to.

Second only in importance to the judicious selection of suitable areas for parks, is that of providing pleasant routes of approach to, and connection between them, so that visitors in carriages may make the circuit by park-ways or boulevards, without disagreeable interruption of the enjoyment of the drives. The arrangement of park-ways as ornamental drives may be varied in accordance with their width, and that, of course, must be governed by local conditions and circumstances, which vary according to locality. The most attractive and beautiful styles of park-ways is that which has an ornamental space in the center arranged as a garden, with a driveway on each side. The Drexel boulevard in Chicago is an example of this style. It is 200 feet wide. The sidewalks are 15 feet—then a driveway on each side of 40 feet—and between these drives a space of 90 feet, tastefully planted with trees and shrubbery, and arranged with paths, places for seats, flower beds, etc, so as to make a continuous garden for its whole length, or rather a series of gardens divided by the cross streets. For this mode of arrangement a width of 200 feet is required in order to secure satisfactory results, but very beautiful drives may be arranged on much narrower space, by confining the driveway within such limits as are only actually necessary, and leaving sufficient room on each side for tasteful planting of trees and shrubbery."

I can only make general suggestions in regard to what seem to me desirable routes for park-ways, in securing which you must of course be governed by circumstances which cannot be foreseen, and may admit of application to more advantageous positions. The country is so generally level that the choice of routes need not be influenced by topographical considerations.

From the proposed park on the grounds of the House of Refuge, a park-way may be carried directly to the grounds of the new insane asylum, or it may go west to Detroit avenue, then on that avenue past the asylum and thence north to University Place, which, as I understood, is city property, the whole or part of which may be secured for a park. Thence either directly north past Calvary cemetery, or via Upton avenue, to the proposed park on Ten Mile creek. Thence either north on Upton avenue or east on Bancroft street to Auburn avenue, and thence north to Woodlawn cemetery. Thence east via Manhattan road, and thence across to the park on the river shore by Chicago street, or that vicinity. If any portion of the low land is utilized as I have advised, this park-way would necessarily strike it in crossing from the Manhattan road to the river. This completes the general outline of parks and park-ways for the west side.

The bad weather and the condition of the roads made it impossible to make as full an examination as I would have been glad to do of the other side, but the nature of the ground is such that the topographical features can be studied almost as well upon the map as by actual inspection. I have already suggested the expediency of securing a portion of the river shore on the point opposite the upper Riverside park, both as a means of increasing the beauty of the outlook from that park, and as a favorable site for a park for the East Side, on account of its natural fitness for such use, and its being less desirable than places further down for the manufacturing works which are likely to comprise the main business on that side.

The Collins tract will serve a similar purpose at the other extremity, and furnish a pleasant resort for the manufacturing population of which that district will doubtless always be largely composed. A parkway to connect this tract with the Cherry street bridge could be carried first south on McCloud avenue either to Starr avenue and then to Bridge street, or by a new route parallel with Starr avenue one or two blocks north of it.

Believing that I have thus indicated the localities best adapted to the immediate necessities of the city, and with assurance of my readiness to furnish further explanations, or supply omissions if required,

I am, very respectfully yours,

H. W. S. CLEVELAND.

DEMOCRATS IN CAUCUS.

The World's Fair Matter Acted Upon.

Interesting Debates Which Show the Temper of the House on the Subject

Washington, Aug. 2.—The democrats of the house held a caucus last night for the purpose of consultation and, if possible, agreement on some plan by which the present deadlock can be broken and an adjournment of congress brought about.

The last caucus held under circumstances similar to the present condition of affairs in the house, resulted in a decision to lay over until December the direct tax bill, against which the filibuster at that time was directed.

A similar plan of campaign was pursued in this caucus, and the debate to a large extent proceeded from a resolution offered by Mr. Mutchler of Pennsylvania, proposing to lay over until December next a vote on the proposition to appropriate $5,000,000 in aid of the world's fair. There were about 100 members present, with Mr. Holman as presiding officer. The resolution offered by Mr. Mutchler was in three parts, and in substance was as follows:

That there shall be a vote on a separate world's fair bill appropriating $5,000,000 in aid of the world's fair on the 7th of December next, and after six hours' debate, and that only three amendments shall be in order, this provision being to prevent continued filibustering through the offering of numerous amendments. The second part provides that the house shall lay the motion of Representative Bingham of Pennsylvania, on the table, vote to reconsider its concurrence in the senate amendment and insist on its agreement thereto.

The third branch provides for the continuance of the Dockery sub-committee on appropriations, which investigated the world's fair management, with authority between now and December to look into the financial condition of the fair, a report on the needs of the fair enterprise to be made to the house on the first Monday in December.

The resolution was much debated in a calm manner, most of the members present being unusually quiet. Mr. Mutchler opened the proceedings in a speech in which he explained the purposes and objects of his resolution and urged the democrats to adopt it as the best way out of the present difficulty, and as a means whereby the government could aid the fair, if circumstances showed it to be necessary to prevent a failure that would reflect upon the American people.

Mr. Reilly of Pennsylvania, followed Mr. Mutchler opposing his resolution.

Mr. McCreary of Kentucky, supported the resolution in a speech which ended only with the fall of Chairman Holman's gavel.

Representative Bushnell, of Wisconsin, spoke in favor of the appropriation for the fair and against the resolution.

Mr. Bankhead, of Alabama, one of the filibusterers, followed in a speech against the appropriation being made, and Mr. Sayers, of Texas, though making no formal speech, gave reasons why the resolution should be adopted. Speaker Crisp made some remarks which, in part at least, were directed at the unusual method by which the fair appropriation had been tacked on the appropriation bill. It was he said, unprecedented to tack to a bill providing for the ordinary running expenses of the government, a provision such as this $5,000,000 amendment. His speech was in favor of the adoption of the resolution offered by Mr. Mutchler. Mr. Dockery, of Missouri, taking the same side.

Among the speakers on the other side who followed up the opening made by Representative Reilly, were Messrs. Fellows of New York, Babbitt of Wisconsin, and O'Neill of Missouri. The sentiment was evidently, however, very largely against the world's fair men, and after ineffectual efforts to adjourn a vote was had.

The first vote was taken on a resolution [illegible] by Mr. Reilly, when he [illegible] and intended as a substitute for the resolution of Mr. Mutchler. Mr. Reilly's resolution was as follows: [illegible] the sense of this caucus that the house shall be allowed to vote on the pending motion, namely, the motion to lay on the table the motion to reconsider the vote by which the house agreed to concur in senate amendment No. 308, without the interposition of any further dilatory motion.

The chairman, Mr. Holman, expressly stated that the vote would be persuasive only and would not be binding. The vote resulted in the defeat of Mr. Reilly's resolution by 69 nays to 31 yeas, and then the Mutchler resolution to throw the fair appropriation over until December was carried by practically the same vote, whereupon the caucus adjourned.

The result was received with manifestations of displeasure by the world's fair men, and expressions of feeling between the two sides became quite warm at the close of the caucus. The result of the caucus is not decisive in any way; but the adoption of the resolution places the world's fair at a disadvantage and is clearly a gain for their opponents.

Do You Ever Wash Your Hair Brush?

This is the best way: Put one teaspoonful of Pearline into a basin of warm water; wash the brush thoroughly in it; rinse in clean water, and set it aside, bristles down, to dry. This is only one—a small one—of the numberless uses to which you can put Pearline. Once you have it in the house, you will find something new for it to do, every day. It does your washing and cleaning better than soap. Try it on anything for which you've been using soap, and see.

Beware Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you, "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, if your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. 337 JAMES PYLE, New York.

Also for improving Eagle Lane from the paving in Elm street to the paving in Chestnut street, by paving the central fourteen feet thereof with either Medina stone, old Medina stone, cedar blocks, vitrified brick or Trinidad asphalt laid on a foundation of hydraulic cement concrete, together with the necessary grading, curbing, gutters, crosswalks, drainage, etc.

The contractor or contractors who shall do the work herein provided for shall be paid for that part chargeable to the city in cash within ninety days after the acceptance of the work and the remainder of the cost will be paid in an assessment levied upon the abutting property in two installments, one-half payable in ten days after the passage and legal publication of the assessing ordinance, and the remainder in one year thereafter.

All bids must be written with ink and the price of each item shall be written in full as well as in figures. Each bid must contain the full name of every person interested in the same. All parties filing bids for the matters specified in this notice must deposit with the city clerk on each bid the sum of Twenty-Five Dollars. All deposits to be in cash or certified check on a bank doing a regular banking business in the city of Toledo, and accompanied by an agreement signed by the bidder and two disinterested persons, guaranteeing that, if the bid is accepted, a contract will be entered into—otherwise the amount deposited to be forfeited to the city; and in case a contract is entered into, said deposit to remain until the first estimate of work done, (or double the amount of deposit,) is reported to the common council.

Bidders will be required to indorse their names on the outside of the envelope containing their proposal, and what the bid is for, the same to be filed with the city clerk. Bids not filed in accordance with the above requirements will be rejected.

Blank bids and envelopes can be obtained of the undersigned or of the city civil engineer.

Bidders must specify the time within which they will commence and complete the work after the acceptance of their bid.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the city civil engineer.

The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the council.

SYLVESTER LAMB, City Clerk.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 147,579 bu., and at five other western points 839,619 bu., an aggregate of 987,198 bu. On the corresponding Tuesday in 1891 the receipts were 1,009,413 bu., with only 26,040 bu. of northwest wheat. Making an allowance for the excess in the movement of northwest wheat, the receipts at seven points are 99,324 bu. larger than last year.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat, 253,392 bu., with flour to an aggregate of 500,000 bu. Exports of corn, 115,645 bu.

English markets are steady, but not active for wheat and corn.

The Markets To-day.

The receipts of wheat at Toledo in July, 1892, were 2,427,000 bu. In July, 1891, 4,159,000 bu. The receipts at St. Louis July, 1892, 3,208,000 bu. The receipts at Chicago in 1891, 3,990,000 bu. The receipts at Chicago in July, 1892, 2,627,000 bu., and in 1891, 6,204,000 bu.

The daily round of news, such as it is, favors the bear side of the deal, but the speculative feeling is increasing and the wheat market has a strong tone again today and made an advance of 1-2 to 3-4c east and west, but India shipments and the increase on the ocean with weak cables were a little too much for the market and the advance was partly lost.

Corn has been firm, but not very active, closing at a gain of 1-4 to 1-2c.

In New York, August wheat closed at 83 1-4c, a gain of 1-4c. September at 84 1-4c, a gain of 3-8c. August corn closed at 55 3-4c and September at 54 3-4c, a gain of 1-4c. August oats at 36 3-4c, a gain of 1 1-8c.

In Chicago August wheat closed at 78 1-8c and September at 78 1-8c, a gain of 1-2c. August corn at 49 3-4c, a gain of 3-8c. September at 49 3-8, a gain of 1-2c.

In Toledo the market for wheat has been firm, and the prices made are an improvement on yesterday's market. During 'Change prices advanced on August and September wheat 5-8 to 3-4c, but before the close the market weakened and closing prices show a gain of 3-8c on August and 1-4c on September. On the call September sold at 79 3-4c. After the call August sold at 79 5-8c to 80 1-8c and closed at 79 3-4c. September sold at 80c to 80 3-8c and closed at 80c. After 'Change there were sales reported at 80 1-8c and 80 1-4c. October sold at 81 1-4c, one cent over September. December 83 1-4c to 83 1-2c and closed at 83c, three cents above September.

Cash wheat was in good demand. Sales 150,000 bu., about equally divided between No. 2 soft and No. 3 soft. The former sold at 79 5-8c to 80c and closed at 79 3-4c, a gain of 1-4c; No. 3 soft sold at 73 1-2c to 74c. Some locations sold at 74 1-2c. The closing price was at 73 3-4c. No. 4 soft at 70c. Rejected No. 1 at 73c. No. 2 at 65c. Weavily 73. Smutty at 73c.

Corn—No. 2 at 49 1-2c, No. 3 at 48 1-2c, No. 4 at 43c.

Oats—No. 2 at 33 1-4c.

Rye—On call No. 2 for September sold at 68c. After the call September at 67 1-8c. Rejected at 55c.

Cloverseed—On the call October sold at $5.30@5.32 1-2. After the call October at $5.30.

NEUHAUSEL BROS.

GUS WENDT RETIRES

As a Member of the Workhouse Board

And Henry Stautzenbach Will Probably be Appointed in Mr. Wendt's Place.

Mr. Gus Wendt, for several years a member of the workhouse board, proposes retiring. His term has expired, and he will not accept a reappointment.

There are no flies on Gus. He is a candidate for county recorder, and it is intimated he will have little or no opposition to secure the position on the republican ticket.

Mr. Wendt notified Mayor Emmick some days ago that he would not accept a reappointment.

The mayor has been on the look-out for some one who would fill the position to the general satisfaction, and he has picked out Mr. Henry Stautzenbach, of Draper & Nugent's, as the right man for the place.

FOR OVER HALF A CENTURY

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain; cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

THAT MYSTERIOUS CASE

Of a Naked Man Found Dead

Out on Nebraska Avenue Road Cleared Up—It Was A. H. Jones, of Oswego, N. Y.

The detectives have been working unceasingly on the strange case of the man who was found lying dead and naked out under the trees on Nebraska avenue road a short time since.

It is now ascertained beyond a doubt that the unfortunate person was A. H. Jones, of 263 Sycamore street, Oswego, N. Y.

He came to Toledo and took lodging at Tom Lalond's on Lafayette street. He made a living as best he could as an agent for dress patterns. He was sick and, it was learned, was a victim of the opium and morphine habits. He had been in an institute for the cure of the former habit, but without success.

He was in bad shape physically. The Wednesday before the finding of the body Jones left Lalond's, saying he was going to Detroit. After that nothing was heard from him.

The detectives followed up every clue and A. H. Jones was nowhere to be found. Diligent search has availed nothing, and several of the missing man's friends have given evidence which settles the dead man's identity beyond a doubt.

BOARD OF REVISION

Called to Meet Again on Saturday Afternoon,

When the Report on the Result of the Bower Investigation Will be Drawn Up.

The board of revision at its last session in the Bower investigation adjourned to meet subject to the call of Mayor Emmick.

The mayor has called a meeting of the board for Saturday afternoon, when the evidence will be read over and the subject discussed.

Messrs. Emmick and Read have a thorough knowledge of the case, but Mr. Coleman will have to read over the stenographer's report, as he was absent at all the important sessions, and therefore is not posted.

Mr. Emmick, talking with a Bee this morning, said the board had investigated the charges thoroughly, and was prepared to make a fair report, covering nothing, but giving the public the full benefit of every fact elicited.

The general verdict is that the board will recommend impeachment to the council.

In the event of the council adopting an impeachment report, Mayor Emmick will have the power of appointment, and in that case ex-Commissioner John Beyer is hinted as a candidate.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

The Home Aid association meets at Odd Fellows' Temple to-night.

The regular monthly meeting of the Humane society occurs one week from tonight.

Lincoln W. C. T. U. will meet to-morrow afternoon at the hall on Western avenue.

An examination under the rules of the civil service was held to-day at the government building.

The Union of Unions will meet Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Central Congregational church.

Chas. Taylor, a barber, was arrested last night for cutting a man with a razor, with intent to wound.

Democrats should not forget the special election for councilman in the Seventh ward on Friday. Their candidate, Mr. George B. Hull, is worthy of cordial support.

There was a fire at 8:45 this morning at 1414 Forrer street in the house, a two-story frame, owned and occupied by L. Scholiski. The total loss will amount to about $250.

John Wagener has commenced suit in common pleas court against the Maumee Paper company for $20,000 damages for the loss of an arm in the mills of the company named.

The Toledo Laundry Co. gave their employes and friends an outing last evening. The jolly crowd, numbering about 400, tripped the light fantastic in the great pavilion at Marengo Park, returning on the steamer Burt at 12 o'clock.

Either a lunatic or a drunken man was evidently taking pleasure in speeding a horse attached to a spring wagon up and down Monroe street, between Shaw avenue and Bancroft street, last evening. For the safety of the public it would be as well to have such men taken care of.

Mr. T. C. Stevens, of the Merchants' National bank, received a dispatch to the effect that the remains of the late Mrs. T. B. Casey would arrive in Toledo from Monterey, Cal., Friday. The funeral will occur Saturday from the Carrington residence.

Custer Division, K. P., held an election last evening, to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Capt. Weier and Lieut. Brown. The following were elected: Captain, Elmer Dale; first lieutenant, A. H. Krueger; second lieutenant, G. D. O'Neill. The Division will attend the Kansas City encampment.

On Friday, August 5, the Hudsons, of St. Louis, and the Rogers, of Toledo, will play a game of ball at the Toledo Ball park. The game will be called at 4 o'clock and ladies will be admitted free. The fence has been rebuilt, and enough seats were left by the fire to accommodate those who attend. The Rogers will paly the Keystones at the same place on Saturday.

The City of Toledo did not arrive in port until 10:30 o'clock last night. The steamer took two excursions to the Bay yesterday, and in waiting for the one over the C., H. & D. was one hour and 20 minutes late in leaving Toledo. The Lima people were taken to Lakeside, and returning to Put-in-Bay the boat left at 4:15 for home. There was quite a heavy sea on and many of the passengers were forced to succumb to the pangs of seasickness.

Dress Goods opening every day.

THE TRADE IN OLD SHOES.

There is a large and growing demand in big New York for second-hand shoes. All along Seventh avenue there are dealers who make a specialty of old shoes. The men usually have stalls in cellars. Their wares embrace shoes of all sorts, from the baby's tiny slipper to the big, stiff brogans of the laborer.

"We get the old shoes," said one of them yesterday, "from all sorts of places. I usually make a couple of trips a week myself to a lot of stylish flats in the upper part of the city. I collect all the old shoes I am able to buy. What do I give? Oh, very little, of course. I usually pay 40 cents or so for a pair of $5 shoes, but they must be in good shape to win a price, for, you know, we do not get much more than twice that sum when we retail them again over the counter."

"Who sell shoes to you?"

"You would be surprised if you saw the fine, swell fellows that have to put up their shoes occasionally to help keep up appearances. We take the shoes, black them up, repair them, and then offer them for sale."

"Who buys them?"

"All classes. Yes, we have nice, prosperous people who wear second-hand shoes, and think nothing of it. Then there is a class of young fellows in New York who have expensive tastes and small capital. They come to us, pick out a good-looking patent leather shoe, pay 75 cents or so for it, and go away rejoicing. They go home, put them on, and, then, who can tell the difference?"

The Japanese government has just completed the installation of a large electric plant on Lake Biwa, near the city of Kioto. Three Edison dynamos of eighty kilowatts each are run by water power from the lake, and furnish current within a radius of two miles for motor power in rice mills, spinning mills, a watch factory and to various other machinery. One alternating current dynamo supplies the city with 1,300 incandescent and many arc lights. The construction of acqueducts so the water power from the lake could be utilized and the building and equipping of the station involved an expenditure of $1,500,000. The entire work was carried on by Japanese engineers.

Politeness sometimes pays. Leander Brooks, one of the wealthiest men of New Haven, Conn., got his start in life by a little act of courtesy. When young and very poor he was going by rail from Newark, N. J., to New Haven. At a way station an old lady got on. She walked the entire length of the crowded car, but no one offered her a seat. Young Brooks noticed her standing and promptly tendered his seat. She entered into conversation with him, and before leaving the train took his address. The following Christmas he received a letter from her, containing a check for $1,000 and proffer of future aid should he need it. He opened a small store and prospered. He is now very wealthy and gives away large sums annually in charity.

Some of the most intricate and artistic bric-a-brac of the world is made by convict hands. Somehow or other when the poor wretches are cut off from the world and hemmed in by high walls, in the solitude of their thoughts they conceive the happiest little conceits which they work out with their hands. It requires an almost incomprehensible amount of patient toil, which free men could never do. Take, for instance, a small center table made by a Texas convict, and which is now on exhibition in a New York furniture store. The table is composed of nearly one hundred and fifty thousand tiny blocks of wood, so joined and dove-tailed together as to give the table the appearance of having been carved out of a solid piece of timber. The convict who made it had a pocket-knife as his only tool.

WHY PAY FULL PRICE FOR YOUR BOY'S SUIT

In a few weeks time you will be ready to buy your boy a new suit for school wear, and will then regret not having taken advantage of our

ONE QUARTER OFF SALE!
—ON ALL—
BOYS' AND CHILDREN'S SUITS!

The time is short now for those who need clothing, to buy it at "stock-taking" prices. The boom is on and but little time will elapse before we close this sale. Hundreds have come to our store during the past week and have gone away fitted in a "Bargain Suit," more willing than ever to testify to the merits of our goods, and knowing that upright dealing, truthful statements and cold facts have carried the day.

As we told you last week, our entire stock of Boys' and Children's Suits go at these reduced prices and when you remember it is no bankrupt stock—but the

HANDSOMEST STOCK OF BOYS' CLOTHING!

In the city, that is offered for your selection you only stand in your own light by not calling and looking at the rare bargains we are prepared to show you.

Don't Forget That Seventy-Five Cents Will Buy Just as Much This Week as One Dollar Will Buy a Week Later. Look at This Scale of "Reduced Prices:"

FORMER PRICE. . .	$3 00	$4 00	$5 00	$7 00	$8 00	$10 00	$12 00
	FOR	FOR	FOR	FOR	FOR	FOR	FOR
REDUCED PRICE. .	$2 25	$3 00	$3 75	$5 25	$6 00	$7 50	$9 00

REMEMBER—Every garment, every article will remain marked just as they are and have been, and when a sale is made a reduction of 25 per cent will be made at the office.

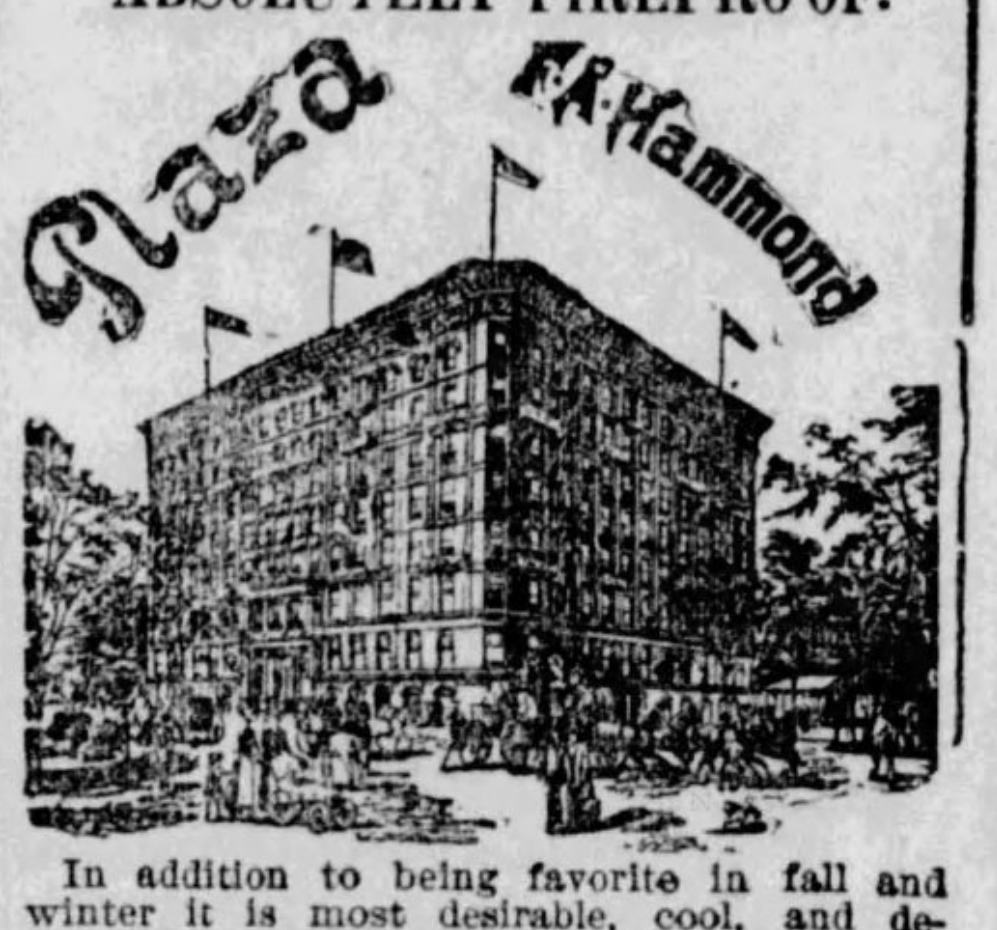
ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF.



In addition to being favorite in fall and winter it is most desirable, cool, and delightful for spring and summer visitors. Located in the HEART OF NEW YORK CITY, at Fifth avenue and Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth streets, and overlooking Central Park and Plaza Square. Convenient to places of amusement and stores. Fifth avenue stages, cross-town, and belt-line horse cars pass the doors. Terminal station Sixth Avenue Elevated road within half a block. Conducted on American and European plans. The water and ice used are vaporized and frozen on the premises and certified as to purity by Professor Charles F. Chandler. SUMMER RATES.

DO YOU WANT GOLD?

Cripple Creek is not a health resort. It is a wealth resort. Quite a difference! Location, near Pike's Peak, in Colorado. Gold—bright, yellow gold, is found at grass roots and in the rock formation.

Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.

The chance of a life-time is worth looking after!

You can get there quickly and comfortably by taking Santa Fe Route. Only line with no change of cars from Chicago, Kansas City and other principal cities to Florissant, nearest railroad station, with daily stages, to Fremont.
